One Hundred and Fifty New Men at Work

And Part of the Big Mill Being Operated.

Burgess McLuckie Released on $10,000 Bail.

Hoadley and Butler Retained to Represent the Locked Out Men in the Coming Legal Battle.

Homestead, Pa., July 20.—Gen. Snowden's statement that the entire force of militia at present concentrated at Homestead would remain here until all danger of trouble had passed has thrown a damper on the feelings of many of the strikers.

They did not know of Gen. Snowden's determination until this morning, but when they did know tongues that had been bridled since the militia came threw off restraint and talked freely. "Gen. Snowden is making a serious mistake," said one of the strike leaders this morning.

"He has seen enough of the people of Homstead to know that their inclinations are peaceful and that the presence of a large body of armed men does much to irritate them. It is hardly fair in him to give the outside world the impression that we are a set of outlaws ready to destroy life and property when military surveillance is removed. We do not like this suspicion and it is not what we expected after the advisory committee and the citizens of the borough gave Gen. Snowden assurances that no more disorders would occur. If the troops were withdrawn to-day the bearing of the people would be no different from what it has been since the military took possession."

Military officers and people who have no personal interest in the question hold a different opinion. While some of the principal officers of the national guard believe that Gen. Snowden has made a mistake in deciding to hold the whole body of troops until peace is assured, the larger number think that he would not have arrived at this decision unless he had some definite information on which to base it. Many of them look forward to trouble for no other reason than the fact that the troops will remain.

Members of the advisory committee say that Hugh O'Donnell will return to-day. The report that he was seen in Baltimore is believed to be correct. Prominent strikers will allow no suggestion of the charge of murder preferred against him.

"Hugh O'Donnell," said one leader, "is not made of the kind of stuff that runs away when danger threatens. His departure from Homestead was made necessary by important business of the Amalgamated association and in his own interest. He will return when this business is transacted."

These remarks were indorsed by a number of the leaders.

The advisory committee of the Amalgamated association met at their headquarters late last night and received reports from committees and scouts as to the progress of the strike. Word was received that three night watchmen who have been on duty in the mill were discharged yesterday because they refused to be sworn in as deputy sheriffs, and they were also suspected of carrying news to the strikers. The advisory committee sent one of their members to answer an advertisement inserted in a Pittsburg paper, by Clark, Richmond & Co., of 33 Pride street, Pittsburg. The advertisement stated that 25 carpenters were wanted for outside work. The envoy of the association found that $2.75 per day, the regular carpenter's wages, was offered, and that the 25 men were wanted to erect sheds and bunks for workmen at Homestead.

The contributions received by the committee yesterday in response to their appeal to labor organizations for financial aid amounted to $106, and came from lodges of the Amalgamated association at Columbus, Cleveland and Massillon, O.; Columbia, Greenville and Apollo, Pa., and the shirt cutters' local assembly, No. 1441, of Philadelphia.

One of the members of the advisory committee said to-day that the show work done in the mill yesterday was nothing more than the running of one set of bending rolls which can be operated by three men. The work done was the bending of one "sponson" which is a portion of the shield of a gun on a man of war. There was no heating, no rolling and no shearing and it could not be claimed that the mills were in operation.

The party of scouts sent out by the Amalgamated association to intercept a body of non-union men reported to be gathering at Little Washington have returned. They report a long and difficult chase after the alleged "blacksheep" which resulted in their finding a gang of men who had recently arrived at Little Washington to build a new railroad near there and there was not an iron worker among them.

Camp Black was up and stirring early this morning. The troops, which are Pennsylvania's pride, were on their mettle. Gov. Pattison was occupied all of the forenoon inspecting the third brigade. The second brigade drilled on the hillside until noon.

HOADLEY AND BUTLER.

Two Eminent Men to Defend the Homestead Workingmen.

Pittsburg, July 20.—The locked out men at Homestead propose to make a great legal fight for the acquittal of the persons against whom informations have been made.

They have secured the services of General Benjamin Butler and ex-Governor Hoadley, of Ohio, who will be here to defend the men. It is now believed that O'Donnell's eastern mission was to confer with General Butler at his Salem home in relation to the legal complications, and incidentally the political end.

The men expect that General Butler will be in Pittsburg soon. Ex-Representative Cox, who came to Pittsburg with persons representing $60,000 to bail Burgess McLuckie, told several persons that application would be made to cite the case into another county if it was thought necessary. The men are waiting for advice from their attorneys before making information against Carnegie officials.

WORKING THE MILLS.

One Hundred and Fifty Men Inside the Fences

Pittsburg, July 20.—The Homestead mills yesterday had about 150 men at work, most of them new employes. Four furnaces in the armor plate department were charged, and a complete resumption in this department will take place probably to-day. The melting department has been fired up, but it will take seven days to get this branch of the mill running again. The open hearth departments numbers one and two, the chemical department and the armor plates were all being worked, but in a desultory way.

The assistant superintendent of the plant said that a number of men had applied for employment and that he expected quite a number of such applications to-day. This official stated that the company had up to this time been unable to secure enough mechanics to complete the necessary repairs; so they started the works without them. He is confident that were the mill to resume operations successfully for a day or two, many of the former employes would return to their old posts. A large number of colored men have arrived in Pittsburg, and visited Mr. H. C. Frick in squads. They carried satchels and were evidently strangers in the city. Their ultimate destination is surmised to be Homestead.

TO MANAGER FRICK.

The Non-Union Side of the Present Controversy.

Pittsburg, July 20.—Manager Frick, of the Carnegie company, has received hundreds of letters in the past few days from all parts of the country, asking for work in the mills. In his mill yesterday was this one:

Kittaning, Pa., July 14.

Hon. H. C. Frick:

I see by the morning paper that Mr. Weihe puts the membership of the Amalgamated association at 24,000. I suppose he means within the state. I am one of the 950,000 able-bodied workmen in the state who do not belong to it. I speak for them. We claim to include men capable of rendering any legitimate orderly service in steel mills or elsewhere which the men of the association can perform. We need employment. We have homes, wives and children dependent on us. We can furnish bonds for fidelity to trust, reference as to character, have never been known to crowd our weaker brother into the fight while we sought out places of safety, have never instituted a system of butchery against strangers simply because they came into our neighborhood without our permission, and because some irresponsible person denominated them "scabs and Pinkerton black sheep," and we demand that our rights be not overlooked. We are citizens, and have a right to have our applications for employment in the public works of the state duly considered whenever we have occasion to so apply, and we may have such occasion before the term proposed by the association goes round.

We ask you, sir, to give us a fair chance, and if you at any time see fit to employ us we each have the brains and the manhood to make our own contract and no reference to the great body of non-united workmen. We will not demand that the entire gang of us be employed before the needed number will go to work, nor that our consent be first had before our brethren in Beaver county or Westmoreland county be employed or discharged, but we protest against the avenues of wage-earning being fenced in by the Amalgamated association or any other association. The association has been well heard from recently. The papers have certainly given it a fair share of free advertising. We ask for no taffy, but give us a chance. Do not put us all in a hole, with the Amalgamated association as guardsmen to keep us in. The association includes good men, but it does not include the most nor the best men in the state. We are willing their applications shall have equal chance with ours, but no more.

We protest respectfully but stubbornly against any doctrine of exclusive right in this matter. Call us non-union if you wish, but give us our rights as men, which you cannot do after you have acceded to the demands of this association. We have stated our position briefly, but our meaning is not obscure, and we submit to you that it is fair and reasonable, and ask you to keep in view the natural rights of the great community of wage-earners sought to be outlawed by this self-constituted arbiter, the Amalgamated association, and we challenge the patriarchs of the order to show by argument, logic, reason, or anything except bluster, bluff, and anarchism that we, the free workingmen of this state, outnumbering them forty to one, must be ruled out in this manner simply because we do not choose to join them. We may be hard to stir up, but now is a good time to consider who we are when we do see cause to stir ourselves up.

A WORKMAN.

BURGESS M'LUCKIE.

He is Released on Bail After a Preliminary Hearing.

Pittsburg, July 20.—Burgess McLuckie has been released on $10,000 bail, but the decision in this case will not apply to Hugh O'Donnell and the rest of the strikers for whom warrants have been issued but who have failed to surrender, and all of them will be compelled to take their innings before the court.

Judge Magee's court room was crowded to the corridor this morning by laboring men of this city and Homestead, and Burgess McLuckie, who was brought across the "bridge of sighs" from the county jail and placed in the prisoner's box, held something approaching a levee until Judge Magee, who was accompanied by Judge Porter, took his seat upon the bench.

It had been anticipated that counsel for the Carnegies would restrict the application to give McLuckie his liberty, and there were consequently many murmurs of surprise when, as soon as the case was called, District Attorney Burleigh arose and said that having carefully gone through the evidence with the associate counsel for the state he conceded that McLuckie was entitled to his liberty.

Inasmuch, however, as the offense was one of considerable gravity, and in view of the present situation in the locality, he felt justified in asking that the bail should be ample.

"I have carefully looked into the matter," replied Judge Magee, "and I do not consider that you can make it a case of murder in the first degree. But the law, as I read it, makes every one who stands idly by during a riot, and without making an effort to suppress it, guilty of riot and a rioter, and he becomes responsible for the consequences, whether they be destructive of property or life. Where life is destroyed, he becomes answerable in the degree of killing to be determined by law, whether it be first or second degree. But if the commonwealth wished any of these cases of the first degree, it will have to show wilful premeditation."

On behalf of the defense Attorney Cox suggested that the decision in McLuckie's case should govern all the rest of the accused men, in order that they might surrender and give bail. Neither the district attorney nor the judge, however, were willing to concede this much. The former said that the other men were, so far, fugitives from justice, while the court held that all the cases might not be alike.

"Suppose," he said, "that any of these people got into trees with sharp-shooters, and picked off their men with deliberation, would they be entitled to any consideration in the matter of bail? I think not."

"All the men for whom warrants are out, are ready to surrender and give bail," suggested Attorney Cox.

"The court can consider no case that is not before it," said the judge peremptorily, and that ended the matter.

McLuckie's bail was fixed at $10,000. Owen Murphy and Oliver C. Kinton, two residents of Homestead, qualified, after being put through a rigid examination by the district attorney, and McLuckie was then released. The crowd filed out of the court room and gave him a cheer as he hurried away to catch the first train for Homestead.

In an interview with Attorney Brennan he said that warrants would be issued very soon for the arrest of Frick and Lovejoy. They will be prosecuted. He did not say what would be done about Andrew Carnegie. It is not thought that Frick and Lovejoy will be arrested to-day.

CAN'T HEAD IT OFF

Cleveland's Popularity Increases Each Day.

Great Masses Cheer the Democratic Candidate.

Preparations for the Notification Meeting.

Gen. Stevenson Arrives With the President.

Two Men of the People Who Will Sweep the Country This Fall From Coast to Coast—National Committee Meeting.

New York, July 20.—Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson will be formally notified to-night, in Madison Square Garden of their selection as the nominees of the democratic party for the offices of president and vice president respectively, and the event will be made the occasion of a great demonstration on the part of the democracy of King's county.

Prominent democrats from many different parts of the union will also participate in the event, and over 200 of them are registered at the principal hotels this morning.

The Madison Square Garden was selected owing to Mr. Cleveland's desire that his response to the formal notification should be heard by as large an audience as possible.

The speech of notification will be made by Congressman Wm. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, who was chairman of the national convention at Chicago, and is also chairman of the notification committee.

The members of the national democratic committee are holding an informal conference at the Fifth Avenue hotel to-day, and will have a regular meeting to-night after the proceedings in the garden.

There is a good deal of speculation regarding the selection of a chairman. Ex-President Cleveland insists that ex-Secretary Whitney must take the position as it is demanded by the unanimous sentiment of the party, while on the other hand Mr. Whitney insists that under no conditions will he accept the chairmanship.

Should he persist in this decision the prospects are that Secretary of State Wm. S. Harrity, of Pennsylvania, and who is a noted organizer, will be the choice of the committee. Mr. Harrity has so far declined to allow his name to be considered, but at the same time his friends say that if the committee in its wisdom should see fit to elect him he will not refuse.

Hon. A. E. Stevenson with several prominent western democrats was in consultation with members of the national committee this morning, in support of the proposition to establish branch headquarters at Chicago with a working force in charge, and to be supplied with campaign literature, funds, and to have an unlimited number of speakers at its disposal.

The probabilities are that the committee will agree to this plan, especially as the republican national committee has decided upon a similar course.

ARRIVED IN NEW YORK.

Cleveland and Stevenson on Board the Steamer Pilgrim.

New York, July 20.—Ex-President Cleveland, Mr. Adlai Stevenson and party arrived at 7 o'clock this morning on the Fall River boat Pilgrim and were received at the dock in a truly democratic manner.

Ex-Assemblyman James Oliver, who had been deputed to receive the Cleveland party, welcomed their arrival and conducted them to Mr. Whitney's private carriage, which was in waiting. The party was composed of the ex-president, Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Ewing and Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Cleveland's private secretary.

As the gentlemen took their seats in the carriage the crowd which had collected on the dock surged around it to grasp the hand of Mr. Cleveland.

That gentleman, however, maintained a calm and placid demeanor, contenting himself by bowing and smiling to the patriotic assemblage.

As the carriage drove away three rousing cheers were given for "Cleveland." Mr. Cleveland was driven to the Fifth Avenue hotel while Mr. Stevenson was taken to the Hoffman house.

A United Press reporter spoke to Mr. Cleveland previous to his leaving the "Pilgrim," but the presidential nominee quietly declined an interview, saying: "You will have to excuse me; I am reserving myself for to-night."

The officers on the Pilgrim stated that the trip down was entirely uneventful. The presidential party occupied private state rooms and were not seen by the general passengers during the trip.

HILL WILL NOT BE THERE.

New York's Senator to Remain Away from the Meeting.

New York, July 20.—A special to the Herald from Washington says Senator Hill will not be present at the democratic notification meeting in New York to-night.

He will not enter into extended explanation as to why he cannot go, but briefly states that he finds it necessary to remain here until the close of the session.

CORDAGE TRUST.

A Resolution of Inquiry in the House of Representatives.

Washington, July 20.—The house committee on judiciary has ordered a favorable report on the resolution introduced by Mr. Scott, of Illinois, requiring the attorney general to inform the house whether any information had been furnished the department of justice concerning the cordage trust, and whether any proceedings have been made against this trust, or if information of such character as will authorize him to institute prosecutions against the combination has been received.

A preamble to the resolution states that it is alleged that the National Cordage company is a corporation organized as a trust to destroy competition and monopolize the trade and commerce in binding twine and other cordage products between the several states and foreign countries.

THE WORLD'S FAIR BILL.

How the News of Its Defeat in the House Was Received.

Chicago, July 20.—The news of the defeat of the world's fair appropriation bill in the lower branch of congress spread rapidly through the offices at headquarters. Its first effect was to stagger those who had believed that when a final vote was taken congress would support the fair it had made. No director was found, however, who would admit defeat. And, by the way, those who had asserted that an appropriation based upon Sunday closing would not be accepted were as disgusted as their followers at the announcement of the action of the house of representatives. Following the special telegram which announced to Director General Davis the defeat of the bill was a personal letter from Lyman J. Gage, chairman of the federal legislation committee, asking him to proceed immediately to Washington to take charge of the interests of the exposition. Col. Davis instantly responded. He closed up his business and took the Pennsylvania limited, in company with Judge Altgeld.

In answer to questions concerning the course he should pursue after arriving in Washington, the director general said: "Until I have looked the ground over I cannot say exactly what will be done. The conference committee will meet Thursday, and we hope to persuade its members that the appropriation should be made. That is our only hope, but I am confident it will not fail us. It is too late in the season to attempt to do any direct missionary work. I will pay strict attention to the conference committee, believing that its recommendations will be adopted."

ELECTRIC ROADS.

New Orleans is to Profit by Rapid Transit.

New Orleans, July 20.—It is stated that a scheme is on foot to consolidate all the street railroads in the city under one management, and to operate the lines by electricity, to be supplied by a mammoth central plant.

It is believed that the Thomson-Houston company is behind the deal. The deal involves fully $10,000,000, and is the largest ever undertaken in New Orleans.

DEATH OF JUDGE HAAG.

One of Napoleon's Oldest Residents Passes Away.

Brief Sketch of the Life of a Man Known All Over Northern Ohio.

Napoleon, O., July 20.—(Special)—Hon. John M. Haag died at his residence last evening at 7 o'clock, of acute bronchitis. The funeral will be held to-morrow.

Judge Haag was probably the best known man within Henry county, and the oldest member of the bar excepting one, Justin H. Tyler.

He was born at Mifflinsburgh, Pennsylvania, August 16, 1836, making him in his 57th year at time of death.

He entered a printing office at Millersburg, Ohio, where he learned the printer's trade, but subsequently took a position on the editorial staff of the paper. Soon after he migrated to New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas county, and entered the office of the Ohio Democrat. While here he studied law, and was admitted to practice in 1859.

Three years later he came to Napoleon and went in partnership with S. R. McBane, under the firm name of McBane & Haag. The senior partner dying in 1863, the judge entered the firm of Sheffield & Haly. The firm soon after dissolving he purchased the Democratic Northwest, and the same fall was elected probate judge. He was re-elected in 1866.

In 1871 he was sent to the legislature, and again in 1873.

During his term of office here he was a very prominent figure on the floor of the house, being a man of brains, besides possessing the rare proclivity of extemporaneous speaking in no small degree. He was at one time chairman of the judiciary committee, displaying much forensic ability.

Since retiring from the legislature he has pursued his calling until within late years, when his health would not permit him to engage actively in practice.

He assisted the prosecutor in the great Wesley Johnson murder trial, his argument on that occasion being pronounced by all a gem for oratory and convincing logic.

In the spring of '90 he took in partnership his son, J. D. Haag.

The judge was one of those characters who made all he had, and might be termed a self-made man, having climbed his way from a printer's devil to one of our ablest lawyers.

STABBED TO THE HEART.

A Little Boy Killed by a Girl Eleven Years Old.

Brenham, Tex., July 20.—At Burton, Tuesday night, Alex McCann, the 11-year-old son of Elder McCann, was left at the residence of Moses Watson, while the two families went to church. Moses Watson has an 11-year-old daughter, Mattie Ellis.

When the parents left the house the children were washing the dishes. The boy quit, whereupon the girl picked up a butcher knife and plunged it into the boy's side. The blade penetrated the heart and he fell lifeless at the feet of his youthful murderess.

MAKING AN INQUIRY.

London, July 20.—The Liverpool board of trade has been investigating the causes of the wreck of the City of Chicago. Official Squarey stated that the steamer, from sighting Cape Clear until striking on the rocks near Kinsale Head, went at uniform speed of between 12 and 13 knots an hour. This speed was not reduced, although the weather was thick and the soundings of 27 fathoms ought to have given warning of danger.

DRY GOODS STORE BURNED.

Caldwell, O., July 20.—C. N. Warren's dry goods store at Hoskinsville, eight miles west of this place, was entirely consumed by fire Tuesday, caused by a lamp explosion, setting off a keg of gunpowder. The entire loss is estimated at $3,000; insurance, $1,500, $500 in Royal and $1,000 in Phoenix.

MISSOURI DEMOCRATS

Thirteen Ballots and No Choice for Governor.

Dalton and Stone Have Both Polled Their Full Strength and are Still Short.

Jefferson, City, Mo., July 20.—After hours of uninterrupted balloting, during which time 13 ballots were taken the democratic state convention has reached a deadlock on the nomination for governor. Both Stone and Dalton have apparently polled their full strength, the highest number of votes cast for Stone being 211, and the highest for Dalton 103, although on the first ballot Dalton received 25 more votes than Stone. On the thirteenth ballot the candidacy of Gibson, Claycomb and Yeaman came into equal prominence with that of Dalton and Stone. At the close of the thirteenth ballot at 3 a. m., the convention took a recess.

THIRD PARTY.

Atlanta, Ga., July 20.—The state convention of the people's party opened here this afternoon, with a large attendance. There is a warm contest between ex-Senator Ellington and Col. Peek for the governorship.

STEVE DENIES IT.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 20.—A letter has been received here from Secretary Elkins in which he says he will not be a candidate for governor of this state.

YOU MUST GET INTO JAIL

If You Want Any Benefit From the McKinley Bill.

Review of the Protected Pearl Button Industry.

Four of the Much Boasted Factories are Located Inside the Penetentiary.

St. Louis, July 20.—The St. Louis Chronicle prints to-day a description of one of the pearl button factories established since the passage of the McKinley tariff bill. This factory is located in the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard, near Chester, and employs 60 men. The plant is owned and operated by the Chicago Pearl company, a company formed by Carl Plum, of Chicago, and two Boston button makers. They have a contract for convict labor at a price that amounts to 50 cents per day per man. The convicts also manufactured the machinery used in making the pearl buttons. The Chronicle says that of the other factories established since the McKinley act went into effect, one of them is in the Auburn, N. Y., penitentiary; one in the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory and one in the Detroit, Mich., house of correction.

GEORGE SHIRAS, JR.

Nominated by the President for Associate Justice.

Washington, July 20.—The president sent to the senate the nomination of George Shiras, Jr., of Pennsylvania, to be associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States.

Mr. Shiras is a leading member of the bar of Pittsburg, where he was born 60 years ago. He was a member of the famous class of '53 at Yale, and graduated with distinguished honors, and after studying law was admitted to practice in 1856 in Pittsburg, where he has since resided.

He has never held public office, nor has he ever served on the bench.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Panic in a Georgia School House.

Many of the Pupils Were Stunned and Had to be Dragged From the Burning Building.

Augusta, Ga., July 20.—The colored school in Brickhead village was struck by lightning yesterday.

The school contained about fifty pupils and two teachers. The whole number sat paralyzed and unable to save themselves from danger.

People rushed to the burning building and began to drag out the pupils, the great majority of whom had been rendered unconscious by the stroke.

One of the teachers, Miss Butler, will die.

Sydney Stanfield and George Turner were killed outright. Two other pupils cannot live many hours.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

New York, July 20.—Kate Gaffney, 31 years of age, of 209 West Sixty-fourth street, committed suicide this morning at 3:30 o'clock by jumping out of a third story window of her residence. She was instantly killed. The cause of suicide is not known.

TRIED TO KILL HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Van Wert, O., July 20.—Henry Overman made a desperate attempt here to kill his mother-in-law, 64 years old. He broke down the doors, and after smashing some of the furniture, grabbed an ax and started at the old woman with the avowed purpose of killing her. He struck at her twice when a passer-by ran in and rescued her. She had two teeth knocked out and received some severe bruises and cuts, besides having her clothes almost torn off.

MEXICAN VETERAN.

Chester, Ill., July 20.—The surviving veterans of the Mexican war who reside in this state are assembled in annual reunion here to-day. There is a good attendance of white-headed, feeble comrades, who saw service in that great campaign, although many of them have passed to their last account since the previous meeting. Illinois is now about the only state where there are a sufficient number of these veterans to hold such a gathering.

INJURED AT THE RACES.

Wapakoneta, O., July 20.—(Special)—Yesterday afternoon Fred Glazier, of Chalmers, Ind., driver of the pacing horse Cutler, met with a very serious and perhaps fatal injury. The horse stumbled, turning the sulky over and throwing the driver a distance of 12 feet on to the track. He is being cared for at the Henry house, but it is feared he is internally injured.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE.

New York, July 20.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Caracas, says that Dr. Rojas Paul has arrived in that city and hostilities between the government and the revolutionary armies have been suspended during negotiations for peace.

It is hoped by all that war is finally over. Dr. Paul received an ovation on his arrival at the capital.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—This is the closing day of the annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen. Early this morning many of the cyclists took a spin about the city, and finally rounded up at the Ebbitt House to witness the match race between J. W. Cartwright, jr., of the editorial staff of the Bicycling World, and L. J. Berger, editor of The Bearings. The latter for some time past has been irritating the World people by charging that none of the editors of that paper were practical wheelmen. This recently brought out a challenge from Cartwright, and which was promptly accepted by Berger. The race is from the Ebbitt House to Cabin John Bridge, and several thousand wheelmen followed in the wake of the contestants. This afternoon the races at the island will be continued, and the ladies of the party were given a run to the Soldiers' home. To-night there will be a run to Casino park on Mount Pleasant, and where with speeches, music, fireworks and other diversions the meet will come to an end.

Yesterday afternoon about 2,000 people went to Analostan Island, opposite Georgetown, where the first day's races were run amid charming natural surroundings. The mile safety novice race, open, was won by Clapp of Washington, Ellis of Washington second, Corse of Towanda, Pa., third. Time, 2:49 2-5.

Quarter mile, ordinary, L. A. W. championship, was won by Campbell, of New York; Porter, of Newton, Mass., second; Ward, of Washington, third. Time, :37 2-5.

Half-mile safety, open, was won by Tyler, of Springfield, Mass.; Berlo, of New York, second; Munger, of Chicago, third. Time, 1:14.

One mile ordinary, L. A. W. championship, was a loafing race throughout, and was won by Draper, of Philiadelphia; Barretta, of Vineland, N. J., second; Parker, of Newton, Mass., third. Time, 5:14.

Quarter-mile safety, open, won by Tyler, of Springfield, Mass.; Murphy, of Kansas City, second; Barrett, of Chicago, third. Time, :36 3-5.

Half-mile safety, L. A. W. championship, won by Wheeler, of New York; Heman, of New York, second. Time, 1:15 2-5.

One mile safety handicap, won by Wheeler, of New York; Seeley, of New York, second; White, of Baltimore, third. Time, 2:24 2-5.

Two mile safety, A. W. championship, won by Berlo, of New York; Munger, of Chicago, second; Banker, of New York, third. Time, 5:48 1-5.

One mile safety, open heats, won by Tyler, of Springfield, Mass.; Taylor, of New York, second; Munger, of Chicago, third. Best time, 2:41 1-5.

One mile safety, District of Columbia clubs, won by Sims.

Cleveland, July 20.—The yachtsmen hereabouts are considerably stirred up by the arrival of a small-sized Gloriana and now a member of the Cleveland Yacht club fleet. The new boat, built in New York, is owned by Commodore Garner, and will be called the "Mott Bradley," in honor of Mr. M. A. Bradley. She is what is known as a fine keel. That is a keel boat of the extreme rocker shape. The ballast is all outside in the shape of a thin strip or fin made of lead and weighing 1,100 pounds. She is 18 feet water line, 5 feet 6 inch beam, and draws 4 feet 6 inches of water. Her overhang forward is 2 feet 6 inches, aft 4 feet, the bow being a shovel nose. The bowsprit outboard is 3 feet 10 inches. Her rig is of the jib and mainsail pole-mast variety. The mainsail peaks up very high, and although her peak-halliard blocks are fastened at her masthead she is enabled to carry a good-sized gaff-topsail. The halliards and jib down haul lead into the cockpit, and all sail is made from there. She has a balance rudder, hung from the deck. The anchor is galvanized and of the patent four-fluke folding kind. The initial sail took place Monday, and her stiffness, quickness in stays and the lively way in which she gathered headway were favorably commented upon. It is already given out that she will compete with the Unique for the latter's well-known supremacy, and lively times are looked for. James Gardner, son of Commodore Gardner, and a veritable chip of the old block, will sail the new boat.

CHILE HAS CASHED UP

Indemnity for the Valparaiso Affair Paid.

Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars in Gold to the Families of the People Killed and Injured.

Washington, July 20.—Secretary of State Foster has announced that an entirely cordial and mutually satisfactory settlement has been reached between the government of the United States and Chile respecting the indemnity to be paid by the latter on account of the assault upon the crew of the Baltimore at Valparaiso on the 16th of October of last year.

The last published dispatch on the subject was sent by Mr. Blaine on January 30 last, in which it was stated that the president believed that the subject of reparation for the Baltimore affair was capable of adjustment by the usual diplomatic methods, and that the sense of justice of Chile would doubtless enable the two governments to honorably make a full end of the whole matter.

The subject rested in this condition till the entrance into the Chilean cabinet of the present minister of foreign affairs, Senor Errazuriz, last month, when he communicated to Mr. Egan the disposition of the Chilean government to come to an adjustment of the Baltimore indemnity. On July 1 Mr. Egan was informed by Secretary Foster that the president was much gratified at the indication received of the disposition of the Chilean government, and that he did not doubt but that it would be ready to make a liberal indemnity to the families of deceased and to wounded survivors; and Mr. Egan was instructed to ascertain the views of the minister of foreign affairs on the subject.

Under date of the 13th inst. Senor Errazuriz addressed Mr. Egan a note placing at the disposal of the latter the sum of $75,000 in gold, asking him to cause it to be distributed among the families of the two seamen who lost their lives and to the surviving members of the crew wounded in the affair of October 16.

On the 17th inst. Mr. Egan replied, cordially accepting the offer of the Chilean government as a frank, friendly and entirely satisfactory settlement of the deplorable occurrence at Valparaiso.

RATE DISCRIMINATION.

Interstate Commerce Commissioners in Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., July 20.—The interstate commerce commission sent for Euclid Martin, world's fair commissioner and dealer in agricultural implements to inquire into alleged discrimination of railways using the Union Pacific bridge here.

This discrimination has been complained of for several years by the Omaha people; but until to-day it has never been taken up by the commission. The Council Bluffs merchant who ships into Nebraska beyond Omaha pays freight only from Omaha.

The Omaha merchant who ships into Iowa pays 5 cents per 100 pounds across the railroad bridge. Mr. Martin stated to the commissioners that he had investigated and estimated that in order to avoid paying the 5 cents that Omaha merchants spent $50,000 per year in draying over the wagon bridge.

McCord and Bradley alone spent $20,000 for their drayage this year. The commissioners did not talk out in meeting, but it was very evident that they kept up considerable thinking while the facts were presented to them.

Arrangements were made for formal complaints to be filed with the commissioners against the Union Pacific and other roads charging them with discrimination against Omaha.

PRETTY JOSIE HOLMES

The Sensational Witness in the Fidelity Bank Case

Is Now Caring for an Invalid Husband on the Coast.

The Persecution of Her Cincinnati Enemies Drove Her From Her Washington Position.

Cincinnati, O., July 20.—The name of Josie Holmes, the handsome and accomplished exchange clerk of E. L. Harper, the wrecker of the late Fidelity bank, is familiar to Cincinnatians in connection with the sensational events of that great failure, and the relation of some of the adventures of Miss Holmes since her departure from this city will not be without interest to many who knew her during her career here. In the course of events subsequent to her arrest and release by the authorities here, it will be remembered that the fair Josie obtained a clerkship in the census bureau at Washington, D. C., from which, however, she was discharged, through the work of her enemies at Cincinnati, so it is said.

Josie Holmes, as she was known to Cincinnatians, is now a resident of the Pacific slope, and the people of Cincinnati have probably seen, and this is, perhaps, the last they will hear of her for some time to come. Said Mrs. Dr. Schultz, an aunt of Miss Holmes, who resides in the Galt House in this city: "As is pretty well known to the public in this city, perhaps, Josie held a position in the census bureau at Washington after leaving Cincinnati, where, in a quiet and modest way, she was trying to earn an honorable livelihood. Her faithful and efficient work in this department gave the utmost satisfaction to her chief, for Josie, as you know, was an apt, bright girl, and soon became very useful in her position.

"Her salary was soon increased from $700 to $900 per annum, and she was getting along nicely until persecution by by her enemies at Cincinnati caused affairs to move toward her discharge. Her intelligence and capacity for taking care of herself, to say nothing of her beauty, seems to have aroused the envy of a number of persons who made every effort to have her ousted from her position, it is claimed. Poor, Josie, whatever may have been her faults in the past, was then trying her best to do right, and it was a great pity that she could not be left alone.

"Some of her enemies even went so far as to send on to her employers the clippings from a local morning paper that was particularly spiteful in its accounts concerning her, and these clippings and the pressure that was brought to bear finally resulted in her discharge. This happened in the latter part of November in 1890, right at the beginning of winter, and the poor girl hardly knew which way to turn in her trouble. She applied at numerous places for employment, but the mention of her name, which had again become familiar by reason of the newspaper talk in connection with her discharge, was sufficient to frustrate her every attempt in this line.

"About this time she met Mr. Gilbert L. Kirby, a naval architect, then stationed at the capital, to whom she was married shortly after. Mr. Kirby was in poor health about a year ago and secured a transfer to a station on the Pacific coast, and, taking Josie with him, they departed for the west. Shortly before leaving Washington she wrote to me. She was in good health and happy in her new life. She desired to hear no more from Cincinnati or its affairs, and was glad of the opportunity to escape from the notice of the public to her home on the far-off Pacific coast. She did not give me her new address nor state one word that would indicate where she and her husband were going to, fearing probably that her whereabouts might become known through me. That is the last that I heard of poor hunted Josie.

"After she left Cincinnati her brother Frank, a youth of 21 years, who had ineffectually, by reason of his being a relative of Josie, sought employment in this city throughout the winter of 1890-91, was taken down with the grip, then pneumonia and consumption and died in May of 1891.

"The persecution of Josie on the part of her enemies here and the death of her brother embittered my niece to such an extent against this city and all pertaining thereto that she has cut off all communication with her friends and relatives here."

IN A TENT.

Elder Updike Expounding the Gospel.

Under the Auspices of the Eleventh Street Church of Christ—Great Crowds in Attendance—Subject for This Evening.

Religious services under a tent is a most comfortable departure from the hot walls of a church building in summer time.

The Eleventh street Church of Christ first conceived this idea and promptly put it into execution.

The tent is located near the corner of Bancroft street and Vermont avenue, and has a seating capacity of over 650 chairs. The ground on the interior is covered with an immense platform, thus adding greatly to the comfort and peace of mind of the audience.

The platform is elevated to such an extent that every word uttered by a speaker is plainly heard at any point under the big stretch of canvas.

Services are conducted by Rev. T. S. Buckingham, pastor of the church, and the regular choir is in attendance every evening, rendering very sweet music. The meeting is a regular summer revival, and has been progress a little over a week. Much interest is manifest, and the tent is crowded every evening. It is delightfully cool under the canvas, and the services are always interesting.

Last night the attendance was greater than the tent would accommodate. This good work has not been without gratifying results, as thirteen persons have been converted.

Rev. J. V. Updike, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., preached again last night, his sermon being a continuation of the night before, the subject of which was, "Three Kings." Rev. Updike is a man of splendid address, and seems to possess a power of holding his hearers to his line of thought from the introduction of his sermon to the finish.

To-night his text will be, "Faith and How to Get It."

The tent meetings will continue so long as interest is maintained, and for the remainder of this month at any rate.

Whether Pasteur and Koch's peculiar modes of treatment will ultimately prevail or not, their theory of blood-contamination is the correct one, though not original. It was on this theory that Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, Mass., nearly fifty years ago, formulated Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

THE GREAT BARNUM SHOW.

Its Appearance in Toledo is Set for Saturday, July 23.

The Barnum & Bailey greatest show on earth gave a two weeks' performance in Chicago, recently, and this is what the Herald of that city said on the last day of the show's exhibition.

"Barnum & Bailey's last two performances will be given this afternoon and to-night before the departure of the circus to Terre Haute, where its exhibition will form that city's Fourth of July celebration. The engagement in Chicago has been seriously interfered with by inclement weather, and, while the profits will not be as large as heretofore, there will be a balance on the right side of the ledger and thousands of people will have been entertained.

It is the universal verdict that no other tented exhibition in America is entitled to even a comparison with Barnum & Bailey's show of this year. The show will make a tour of most of the western cities during this year, and while its great spectacle Columbus will prepare the masses to more fully appreciate the event the world's fair is to celebrate, they will at the same time receive the greatest measure of wholesome and instructive entertainment ever offered by a traveling exhibition."

RECEPTION.

Deshler, O., July 20.—(Special.)—One of the most pleasant occasions that the people of this place have enjoyed took place at the M. E. church on Monday evening, being a reception given Rev. W. W. Winter, by the members of his church, in which all denominations and citizens generally participated.

The evening was spent in song and toasts and responses, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to over two hundred.

M., free special cars will leave the corner of Summit and Adams streets. Take the 3:00 o'clock train, if you can, and avoid the rush. Be in time to see the property and attend our reception before the sale opens.

Little Need be Said

Regarding Kensington, its location, surroundings and advantages. It speaks for itself and will bear your closest scrutiny.

Toledo's Fancy Residence Property

It is admitted by all, lies within a district bounded by Cherry Street, Detroit Avenue and Monroe Street, or immediately outside of this district. The centre of this fine property formerly between 12th and 15th streets has, from year to year, crept out Madison Street until it has reached the vicinity of Collingwood and Woodruff Avenues, and is now, by the erection of handsome residences, and improvement of streets on each side, moving out Collingwood Avenue at no snail's pace. Kensington will naturally before long be in the very heart of the best property, and, aided by owners who are prepared to encourage all improvements, the time will not be long coming when this property will sell at double the present prices.

The Highest Bidder

Will receive the choice of the 25 lots that will be offered. The lots chosen for the sale have been selected in pairs throughout the addition, facing on Fulton, Webster, Rockingham and Melrose Avenues. These lots will not be sold because of any profit to be derived by the present owners; the purchasers will have the profit. The sale is to be held and gifts made to advertise Kensington. Profits to present owners will be secured from the 120 lots remaining which will be sold at regular retail prices only. Collingwood and Islington Avenues, through the outlay of many thousands of dollars, have already, by the present owners, been made handsome and attractive residence streets, so that the present retail price on these streets cannot be discounted.

The Wonderful Development

That has occurred in property on Franklin, Putnam, Fulton, Parkwood, Scottwood, Robinwood, Glenwood and Maplewood avenues, by reason of the introduction of rapid transit street car facilities, is sure to be repeated on the streets in Kensington, and prices that prevail at our sale will be a thing of the past.

Terms of Sale:

$10 cash and $40 when contract is executed; balance monthly, quarterly or yearly; 6 per cent. interest on deferred payments. Opinion of title, by the abstract firm of Bissell & Gorrill, will be furnished each purchaser.

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS

Have been adopted that will always keep Kensington a strictly first-class residence addition. These restrictions, in every deed, require, for a period of 15 years, that all lots shall be used for residence purposes only, that no house, barn or other building shall be built closer to any street than 25 feet; and that no residence shall be built costing less than $2,500. It will be necessary that all purchasers observe these restrictions closely.

The Consolidated Belt Electric Railway,

Running as it does, in a direct line down into business, will be a great factor in building up this beautiful residence center. Kensington is now but 15 minutes from Summit street by the new line.

10 COACHES

From the Crescent Livery have been engaged and will be in waiting on the grounds to show the entire property to all who attend the sale. This is made necessary because of the large territory covered by the property, it being nearly a mile around.

REFRESHMENTS

Of Ice Cream and Cake will be served on the grounds at No. 417 Islington Avenue. All (except children) are invited.

THE GIFT LOT,

THEY TOOK THEIR PICK

Of Stolen Goods and Threw the Rest into the River.

The Toledo police were notified to-day that the store of E. L. Grabiel, at Elmore, was broken into about 3 o'clock this morning. About $50 worth of clothing, shoes and hats were taken. The thieves changed their clothing, throwing the stolen articles that didn't fit into the river. The miscreants are in Toledo, it is thought.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

John Dutcher Meets His Death by Jumping on Freights.

John Dutcher, a boy about 18 years of age, residing at Manhattan Junction, jumped a freight on the Wheeling & Lake Erie belt yesterday, and somehow or other fell under the wheels. He was badly mangled and lived only a few hours after being taken to St. Vincent's hospital. He was not employed by the road and rode against the rules of the company. It was a most unfortunate accident.

THE HOUGH PLACE.

C. S. Ashley yesterday sold 245 feet of the Hough Place addition, on the corner of Summit and Galena streets, for $12,000. A greater share of the block was purchased by Messrs. MR. SMITH,

And His Attorney, Mr. Read, Will Commence Legal Action.

Labor Commissioner Lewis, having stated that he had left the free employment office matter in the hands of Mr. Smith and his attorney, a Bee called on Mr. Read this morning to learn what he proposed doing. "We expected to begin legal proceedings this morning," said Mr. Read, "but Judge Scribner is out of the city and will be absent five weeks, and Judge Haynes is at Put-in-Bay. There will consequently, be nothing done for the present; but we shall take action just as soon as we can get the ear of the court."

THE DOG LAW

Which Authorizes the Killing of Canines Running at Large.

The dog days are before us, and muzzles are the order of the day. It may prove interesting to owners of the canine species to know their favorite may be shot by any person so inclined, hence a hint cannot be amiss. This is the authority for shooting: Section 7008. The owner or harborer of any animal of the dog kind, who permits such animal to be at large away from the premises occupied by him, unaccompanied by any person, shall be fined $5. Any person may kill any such animal so running at large, provided, that if any person in attempting to kill such animal so running at large, fails to kill and wounds the same, he shall not be liable to prosecution.

A Findlayite Sues Draper & Nugent, of This City.

This afternoon there was filed in the common pleas court a suit by Jennie D. King, of Findlay, against Draper & Nugent for $5,000. PROTECTION AND WAGES.

The Subject of an Address by Hon. Frank H. Hurd.

Hon. Frank H. Hurd will deliver an address to the people of Toledo at Memorial hall on Friday evening of this week, on the subject of "Protection and Wages." The effort will no doubt be a call for much thought and study on the part of Mr. Hurd, and citizens cannot fail to be instructed in the hearing of the same. At this time, with the troubles at Homestead and in the west, the discussion of this topic is very appropriate.

Remember time and place—Friday evening at Memorial hall.

AS TO IMPEACHMENT.

The Affidavit Being Prepared, But Will It be Signed?

There is much gossip on the streets as to whether impeachment proceedings will be instituted against the indicted councilmen.

Solicitor Read this morning dictated the affidavit, which is now being written up.

The affidavit must be signed by five freeholders, who will also be required to give bond.

This is the question which involves the uncertainty as to the institution of impeachment proceedings. Are there five men who will assume the responsibility of this proceeding in view of the fact that criminal prosecution against the parties is already under way? There's the rub.

Solicitor Read informed a Bee this morning that five responsible citizens had volunteered to sign the affidavit.

THIEVES TURNED ON THE GAS

And Ransacked Infirmary Superintendent Wachter's Home.

For some time past the west end of the city has been afflicted with sneak thieves, who have by their raids occasioned much anxiety and some loss to residents of the section named. Last evening the residence of Wm. Wachter, on Eighteenth street near Madison, was invaded. The family was absent for a ride on the water, and when they returned found the house lighted throughout as though for a festive occasion. It appears that the thieves had gained entrance by ladder through a rear window, and after thoroughly illuminating had thoroughly ransacked at their leisure. The booty carried off was not extensive, and consisted of a purse containing a few dollars and a revolver. The police have their drag net out, but thus far to no purpose.

THE MEMBERS

Of the Home Aid Association to Picnic at Maumee.

The Home Aid association held its regular fortnightly meeting at Odd Fellows' Temple last evening and installed the officers not present at the last meeting. Mr. K. O. St. John was elected chief officer, but as he is not physically able to perform the duties of the office, his resignation was accepted, and Mrs. Feilbach elected to fill the office. Two applications for membership were acted upon favorably, and these new members will be initiated at the next meeting.

The question of where the annual summer outing would be taken, was discussed, and the treasurer, Dr. C. G. Clark, offered the use of his home and spacious grounds at Maumee, for a picnic. The association accepted the hospitable invitation with pleasure, and voted to hold the picnic Thursday, July 28. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, August 1.

PICNICKED AT OAK HARBOR.

Allen Street Mission Scholars Royally Received.

Yesterday was a day which will long be remembered by the members of the Allen Street Mission Sunday school. Over 300 of the scholars and friends went over the Wheeling & Lake Erie to Oak Harbor, where they were met by the Sunday schools of the town and the Oak Harbor band and escorted to the beautiful schoolhouse grove, where games and all manner of amusements were indulged in. The band discoursed music during the day, and the good people of Oak Harbor left nothing undone to give all an enjoyable time. A big dinner and supper for the school was part of the program.

At 7 o'clock the train returned to Toledo and unloaded the happiest lot of people who ever left the city. The superintendent, Mr. D. N. Trowbridge, was in his best spirits, and with the large corps of teachers speaks in the highest praise of the kind treatment they received at the hands of the Oak Harborites. The Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad officials are also remembered by all for their kindness and the interest shown in the children.

The following resolutions of sympathy with the locked-out Homestead men have been passed by L. A. 1942:

Believing, as we do, that an injury to one is the concern of all, and

Whereas, A serious struggle has been precipitated in the Homestead iron works in Pennsylvania, caused by a general lockout on account of a general reduction of wages, and

Whereas, Mr. Carnegie, has, through his manager, employed Pinkertons to intimidate, and if necessary shoot down American workingmen, and

Whereas, It has come to the notice of L. A. 1942, that the said Pinkertons were called there unlawfully to terrorize the people of Homestead, therefore be it

Resolved, That L. A. 1942, K. of L., denounce the introduction of Pinkertons, as a menace to society and uncalled for in any locality of this land. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend our moral and financial aid to the men in their struggle for justice.

RIVER WORK

Under Direction of the Government—Col. Smith's Recommendations.

Col. Smith, the engineer in charge of government work in this section, has made his annual report to the war department.

At Toledo the engineer recommends the abandonment of further improvement of the old channel. He says the new channel is now wider and better than the old and further expenditure on the latter is unadvisable. A million cubic yards have been taken from the channel and a depth exceeding 16 feet has been attained with a width of 200 feet. Col. Smith says it is extremely difficult to obtain a uniform depth in this channel owing to the great quantity of dirt, silt, etc., which comes down the Maumee. To prevent this he suggests a system of piers or dikes. The cost of the new channel so far exceeds $750,000.

At Lorain a depth of 16 feet has been attained between the parallel piers, but the engineer recommends a deepening to 17 feet to accommodate the class of vessels now doing business at this harbor.

At Vermillion Col. Smith says the commerce does not justify any expenditure beyond a small amount to preserve the piers heretofore constructed.

At Huron the work of procuring a 16-foot channel is about half done. The piers are reported in a very bad condition.

At Sandusky the dredging has given a depth of 16 1-2 feet in the dock channel and 15 feet in the old channel. Attention is called to the dangerous condition of the bar outside Cedar Point, which gives only a depth of 12 feet and leaves a channel at its narrowest point of but 50 feet. The nine-foot channel in the river is given a black eye, the engineer expressing the opinion that the commerce of the river does not warrant the constant outlay for dredging.

At Port Clinton the engineer says the dredging causes no permanent improvement, as the same conditions return annually and if this channel is to be maintained an annual appropriation for clearing the channel will be necessary.

TORTURING ECZEMA

Editor Iowa Plain Dealer Cured of Insufferable Itching and Pain by the Cuticura Remedies.

No Less Than Five Physicians Consulted. Their Combined Wisdom Followed Without Benefit.

I am sixty-six years old. In August, 1889, was troubled with the peculiar skin disease to which people of my age are subject, known among medical men as eczema. Its first appearance was near the ankles. It rapidly extended over the lower extremities until my legs were nearly one raw sore; from legs the trouble extended across the hips, shoulders and the entire length of the arms, the legs and arms greatly swollen with an itching, burning pain, without cessation. Although the best medical advice attainable was employed, no less than five physicians of the place being consulted and the prescriptions being the result of their combined wisdom, the disease, though apparently checked, would recur in a few days as bad as ever; during its progress my weight fell away about twenty-five pounds. As an experiment I began the use of CUTICURA, following the simple and plain instructions given with the REMEDIES, and in four weeks found myself well, with skin soft and natural in color, the itching and pain entirely relieved. D. A. 72, K. OF L.

In Quarterly Session at Clarke's Hall.

Questions of Vital Interest to Labor Discussed and Resolutions Adopted.

District Assembly, No. 72, of the Knights of Labor, are holding their quarterly meeting at Clarke's hall to-day. The quarterly reports show a very encouraging increase in membership of locals, and the treasurer's report shows a handsome increase of receipts.

The Labor day celebration was left in the hands of the executive board.

The Sunday closing of the world's fair question caused considerable discussion, and the following resolutions express the sentiment of the assembly:

Whereas, We see what seems an anomoly in the saloonkeepers of Chicago and certain religious bodies of the world's fair on Sunday; and,

Whereas, We are of the opinion that the best interests of the laboring people of this country would be served by opening to them the opportunity of seeing and studying the results of their toil on that day; therefore,

Resolved, That D. A. 72, K. of L., ask the authorities that the world's fair be opened on Sunday.

Election of delegates to the general assembly is taking place this afternoon.

The following resolutions of sympathy with the Homestead strikers were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We as Knights of Labor, have maintained that the organization known as the Pinkerton Preventerton Patrol, is unwarranted in law, and its existence a standing menace to the peace and order of our country, and

Whereas, By the deplorable affair at Homestead, Pa., we are once more called on to add to the long list of workmen whose lives have been sacrificed by the action of this organization.

Resolved, That D. A. 72, K. of L., ask and urge all lovers of liberty and justice to agitate and work for the suppression of this usurper of our governmental function, and be it further

Resolved, That we extend our sincere sympathies to the locked-out workmen of Homestead, and pledge them our moral and financial aid.

Convict Doyle, who was said to give evidences of approaching insanity on hearing of the suicide and confession of Rowland, talked rationally Tuesday morning. He admits having been in the crime with Rowland in Michigan, for which they were both sentenced. He says he was with Rowland in a Toledo burglary, but that he was promised immunity from punishment in the latter crime on returning the property. He says Rowland believed that he was corresponding with a Toledo detective trying to free himself by convicting Rowland, but denies that there was any ground for this. Knowing Rowland's suspicions, he feared that he had left some statement that would implicate him.—Columbus Press.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

WENT ON THE ROCKS

The Big Ship Maxwell Driven Ashore.

Heartless Conduct of Foreign Tug Captains.

A Lifeboat, Going to the Rescue, Capsizes and Drowns Two of Her Crew—29 Sailors Saved.

London, July 20.—The British bark Maxwell, Capt. Frazier, bound for San Francisco, was wrecked during the night off New Brighton, where the Mersey enters Liverpool bay. The shipwrecked crew sent up signals of distress and the Liverpool life boat was manned in response to the signals. The life boat crew were unable to get a tug boat, although a number of them were moored in the river.

They appealed to the tug Spendthrift, but the captain refused to extend assistance on the ground that he had been engaged to attend the City of Paris and the Alaska, then lying in midstream.

Meantime a multitude of people attracted by the signals gathered on the shore and many cursed the inhumanity of those who refused to go to the rescue. Finally an hour passed before a tug boat was obtained and the lifeboat proceeded on its mission.

When the Liverpool life boat was near the wreck it capsized and the crew were thrown into the water. Most of them clung to the bottom of the overturned boat, but two of them sank into the sea and were drowned.

The life boat was cast ashore at Hoy Lake about seven miles from Birkenhead. Besides the two lost by drowning, one of the survivors has died from the effects of hardship and exposure and three others are so badly battered as to be in a dangerous condition.

Meantime, the new Brighton lifeboat was launched and made its way safely to the Maxwell, whose crew had almost despaired of rescue. They were safely taken off, 29 in number, and after being cared for, they were sent back to Liverpool.

The wreck of the Maxwell was due to the high winds and heavy rains which are now general in Great Britain. The storm came in from the Atlantic and reached Scotland yesterday. It traveled in a southeasterly direction developing into a gale. Many shipping casualties are reported.

At Bisley, where the international rifle contest is going on, during the night the tents were overturned by the wind and their occupants were drenched.

To-day the wind is so strong that the riflemen are compelled to aim three or four feet off targets. During the night there was great anxiety in Liverpool owing to the non-arrival of a number of excursion boats which had gone to the Isle of Man and other points. The landing stages were crowded with relatives and friends of the excursionists who eagerly and anxiously looked down the river for the lights of the boats.

Finally the steamers came straggling in safe but badly battered.

Some excursionists report having gone through a most terrible experience and many of them gave up hope of ever reaching land alive. A Whitby fishing smack was capsized and three of her crew drowned.

No Need of a Committee.

The senate thinks it ought to send out a committee of investigation to find how the McKinley law is working. Let it listen to the Homestead battle cry, read the newspapers, and ask for voluntary information. The Bee has on file some schedules of prices of protected manufactured goods, both for the foreign and the home buyer. A contrast of prices for the same articles, gives one a deal of enlightenment. It also has, on file, the testimony of a tin-can factory man, one who was here before the McKinley law, in which it is said, "either the consumer pays more for his goods, or the whole-saler and retailer is content with smaller profits and suffers the loss himself." Any and all of these testimonies will be loaned to the senate inquirers after results. And these can be supplemented by various others. Really, it seems disgraceful that the senate of the country should not be so well posted as the ordinary newspaper man or shopping woman. It will be pretty expensive business to educate the senators on political questions, after we have elected them to make laws for us, supposing that they knew everything.

Republican Precedent.

The high-tax organs of the east are quoting Frank Hurd with great gusto, because he says he approves the tariff plank in the democratic platform for the reason that it is a step towards free trade. They affect to think such speeches will make votes for republicans. The same sentiment was uttered by the apotheosized Garfield, when he said, "every revision of the tariff should be in the direction of free trade." And President Grant expressed the same sentiment in slightly different words in one of his messages to congress.

Representative Taylor, of Illinois, proposed the sensible amendment to the Sunday closing bill—that all machinery should be still and all labor so far as was possible, cease and provision be made for holding religious services on the grounds. What more fitting place to worship the Creator than in the midst of the beautiful handiwork of His creatures? In this way the work-every-day-in-the-week people would have opportunity to enjoy the treasures of art and science gathered from the four corners of the earth—an opportunity that will never come to them again. The truly Christian way would be to close the saloons on Sunday, keep the crowds sober and well-behaved and let them come. Mistaken piety would close the gates, while knowing their inability to also close the saloons.

We have yet to see, in any newspaper's columns, commendation of Mr. Frick's course in the arrest of the leaders of the locked-out men at Homestead. At this time, when the tension is so great that a straw's extra weight might precipitate an outbreak, the action is reckless, unwarranted, vindictive, ugly. It is a thrust at the association, regardless of consequences, to get the most intelligent of its leaders in jail and make them feel the power of his mighty hand, with the army and the United States government and the Pinkertons behind him. It brands the man as an enemy of the peace and a foe to humanity. "Had it not been for Hugh O'Donnell and his associates," says the N. Y. Recorder (partisan republican paper) "the Carnegie mills would now be a mass of smoking ruins." And Mr. Frick knows this.

The public has been regaled in republican papers with dissertations on hungry democrats who are seeking office, but the cheeks of Ohioans must blush with shame at the scramble now going on for the clerkship made vacant by the death of Sam Shaffer at Columbus. It is so bold that the dispatch, a republican organ, feels constrained to call attention to it in the following paragraph:

"The unseemly scramble, usual in such cases, has begun for the position of secretary of the sinking fund commission, left vacant by the death of Mr. Samuel Shaffer. It was to be hoped that this might be postponed at least till after the interment of Mr. Shaffer's remains."

Let's hear no more about hungry democrats.

The number of preachers who know all about how newspapers are run, is on the increase. Rev. Frank Bristol, of Chicago, said Sunday:

The writers for the press are unscrupulous scribblers who dare not put their names to what they write, and the so-called editors do not write their editorials, but accept them from others. They are all irresponsible scribblers, and their papers are published for revenue only.

Mr. Bristol doesn't say how he found out about it; neither does he, or any other pulpiteer as disgruntled as himself say why the good people under their pulpit ministrations do not some of them start a decent paper and show the world what can be done. This burden of soul ought to incite to some kind of reformatory effort.

The pearl button makers at Hicksville, L. I., have struck. The cutters were able to make only 84 cents a day by putting in ten hours' work. Their wages are seven cents a gross for cutting. They asked for a raise of two cents a gross and were refused. And yet, the new tariff law added to the former ad valorem duty of 25 cents a specific duty of 2 1-2 cents per line, the whole amounting to over 113 per cent. tax. And consumers are paying precisely three times as much for pearl buttons in Hicksville or Toledo as they do in London or Berlin. Who gets all this bonus?

The University of Chicago will take hold of the University Extension movement with vigor and have sent Mr. Henderson, formerly secretary of the American University Extension movement, to Europe in the interest of farther investigation of the best method of proceeding in the matter. He should be made to pay import duty on the ideas he brings in. We have whole schools of professors at home whose plans may be just as good as those of the English movement, when they are tested. These plans should be protected from competition with the pauper experiences of the old world.

The senate said the directors of the world's fair should have $5,000,000 if they would agree to close the gates Sunday. The house said they sould not have the appropriation and should be compelled to close the gates just the same. The United States congress as a whole would better bundle itself off home; it is not representing in any measure the will of the people. With Senator Matt Quay attempting to quote scripture, and others of his ilk deciding what is for the good for the morals of the people, the whole thing becomes a burlesque and a disgrace.

One hundred and twenty-four iron and steel firms in western Pennsylvania (about one-fourth of the whole number), have signed the Amalgamated scale without protest. It was only the poor Carnegies who couldn't stand it and whose representative went before the congressional committee and talked of "bankruptcy." Will not the warfare they have inaugurated be as likely to precipitate this calamity? Is it thus that protection protects? Perhaps these other firms do not demand so much profit to invest in the old world cities and to keep up castle-life.

The 3,000 New York dressmakers who ask that a duty be levied on the wardrobes that returning European tourists bring with them, are making a perfectly reasonable request in the name of protection to American workingwomen against competition with cheap foreign labor. If protection by tax protects, the dressmakers as well as the glove-makers and milliners should have the benefit of it. Fashionable New York, which gets its work done in Paris or London because it is cheaper, should pay for the privilege.

Several of our contemporaries must stand corrected; the Homestead workers did not strike; they refused to accept a reduction of wages and to have the time of the expiration of agreement between the association and the company changed from midsummer to midwinter. Refusing, in regular conference, to submit to the arbitrary and, as they had reason to believe, uncalled-for changes, they were locked-out. There is a distinction and a difference which fair minded persons will not fail to estimate.

Pacific coast papers are now worrying because the Japanese are pouring in upon them. According to the San Francisco Call, during the month of June, 1,487 out of a total of 3,054 immigrants, were from Japan. While they cannot be complained of for many causes which make the Chinese undesirable, they threaten as great disturbance in the labor market. The problem of immigration looms up into the most formidable one of all demanding attention, and closely allied with it are other issues of vital importance.

"Strikes are fewer in protected America than in free-trade England," say forty organs. Does free representative government, unlimited expanse of cultivable territory, the inventive genius of the people have anything to do with it? Is it the star spangled banner that makes this country a more desirable place for the man in ordinary circumstances, than an "effete monarchy," or is it the McKinley tax law? It got a pretty good start before these latter-day economists were born.

The vigor with which the census bureau distributes its special census bulletins is enough to make the average man dizzy. Bulletin 174, of the date of March 28, giving the Presbyterian church statistics, is still finding its way from the interior department.—Baltimore Sun.

Will the churches please stop making converts for a couple of years or so and allow Mr. Porter and his assistants to catch up?

The Carnegie company have a contract with the government for over 6,000 tons of armor plate at prices ranging from $170 to $575 per ton. No wonder Mr. Frick declined to give figures for the cost of production. 'Twould be a bad give away for the servants, who are doing Uncle Sam's business, at present.

To-night will be a gala-time at Madison square garden in New York. The democratic nominees will be formally notified of the honor conferred upon them, and will tell the cheering crowds what they purpose to do in return. Hurrah for Cleve and Steve.

Hon. Frank H. Hurd will address the people of Toledo on Friday evening at Memorial hall on the subject of "Protection and Wages." The speaker's well-known powers as orator and student will no doubt fill the spacious hall with interested hearers.

What "gall" the democracy has to ask a workman to vote to cut down his wages!—New York Recorder.

He doesn't vote to have his wages cut; he votes to have them increased. The other fellow does the cutting, after he secures his vote and gets him in a corner.

What will the outrage organs do with the lynching case in Grenada, Miss., the other day? A negro was hung by a mob of negroes who wreaked terrible vengeance upon him. His crime was an assault upon a young colored girl, from the effects of which she died.

Mr. Powderly is a Pennsylvania republican first, Mr. Powderly's man second, an egotistical crank generally and a knight of labor by name and profession. And by virtue of all these qualifications, a people's party advocate.

The Hon. Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan, is out in Nebraska posing as a laboring man and making political addresses. Mr. Horr couldn't labor, except with his mouth; his face and figure are both "agin it."

Mr. Carnegie gets ten dollars' bounty on the product that costs him one dollar and ninety cents. And this is what he means by "triumphant democracy."

Ten deaths from cholera were reported yesterday in Paris. Put quick lime in the alleys and look after the garbage. Paris is only six and a half days from Toledo.

DINED ON DYNAMITE.

Youngstown, O., July 20.—Four cows belonging to D. P. Houston, of Mill Creek, ate a quantity of dynamite left in the pasture by workmen, who were blasting tree stumps, and dropped dead in rapid succession. It is supposed the chemicals caused death.

THIS IS JUST BULLY.

Capt. Heistand Praises the Toledo Cadets,

And Will Give Them a Twist to the Folks

At Washington—Capt McMaken Talks to the Boys Last Evening—The Wheels Catch the Visitors—Camp Notes.

Camp Toledo is in a bustle to-day. Right after mess this morning the men got out their polishing apparatus and went to work on their guns and brass, for this afternoon they will be inspected by Col. Howe, assistant adjutant general of the state. Every man shines like a new dollar, and everything is in its place, even to a piece of soap in the knapsacks.

Just as the company was preparing for dress parade last evening, Capt. H. O. S. Heistand, of the Eleventh infantry, U. S. A., came unexpectedly into camp, in much the same manner as did Col. Howe the evening before. It is a way these big guns have of catching the boys napping. They didn't catch the Cadets, however, because they do their work up to the notch all the time, no matter who is expected or not expected.

Col. Howe and Capt. Heistand, decked out in all their finery, took their stand on the field during dress parade, and expressed themselves highly pleased with what they saw. There was a goodly gathering of spectators from town and city, who enjoyed the military spectacle, set off by the velvety parade ground, backed by the dark green woods, the whole picture softened and blended by the purple rays of the setting sun, gleaming through the trees to the westward. Dress parade with such surroundings is almost a dream. The city and its strife fades away, and one imagines himself a soldier, all his life with nothing but dress parades and big appetites.

The bicycles are generally only brought out in the morning, but Capt. Heistand was very anxious to witness the evolutions of a company so equipped and the bicycle drill was substituted for the usual evening unmounted drill.

Last evening's drill was the prettiest the company has yet executed on their wheels. A description cannot be written that would do it justice. Officers are slow to praise and quick to pick out defects, but when the wheelmen were leaving the parade ground Col. Howe remarked: "That's the finest thing I've seen in a long time. It convinces me that the bicycle is destined to be an important adjunct to military work."

"You are right," said Capt. Heistand. "It was a grand sight. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on the company and Capt. McMaken. I shall make an elaborate report of this to the war department. The Cadets are the first to introduce the wheels into military service in this country, and they deserve no end of credit. The city of Toledo, too, is to be credited with a long mark, inasmuch as it has made it possible for the company to be thus equipped at an expense of $5,000. The Cadets, being the first in line with the wheels, should compile a manual of military bicycle work, which no doubt would be adopted at large. I have seen many companies drill under the new tactics of late, but I have not found one that excelled the Toledo Cadets. The manner in which they demonstrate the tactics in so short a time is wonderful. Capt. McMaken was an old classmate of mine at West Point, and one of the happiest events of my life will be to report him and his company in the highest terms to the war department, and without any qualms of conscience that it was done out of friendship. It is most justly deserved.

That was a good deal for an army officer to say, but he said it, and Col. Howe nodded his head in assent.

All last night the guards on their silent rounds would be heard "one o'clock, all's well," "two o'clock, all's well," and so on until dawn. Along after midnight Capt. Heistand made the rounds, visiting all the posts and running the guards through a course of sprouts. He plied them with questions innumerable and did his best to tangle them up.

"If Queen Victoria," he said, "approached you, would you salute her?"

"I don't think I would," said one.

"I would do so," answered another.

"Right," said the captain. "Would you salute the emperor of Germany?"

"I would."

"If his 11-year-old son drove up in his dog-cart would you salute?"

"Yes."

"Right."

"If his 2-year-old son came up to you what would you do?"

"Salute."

"Wrong; you don't salute beyond the heir apparent."

And so on run the catechising. The captain gave the boys some valuable information. He has been detailed by the war department to inspect the Ohio National guard. Capt. Heistand is a handsome gentleman, a thorough soldier, and an easy, brilliant conversationalist.

Capt. McMaken has a heart as big as a mountain, and sometimes it gets the best of him. After dark last night at roll call he approached the company, and with tears coming to his eyes said:

"Boys, you have made me very happy to-day. Your work has elicited praise from the visiting officers, and that with the meeting of my old class-mate at West Point, who speaks so highly of you, has quite undone me. I assure you I appreciate all you have done and are doing. This company is everything to me, and I am proud of it."

Lights went out with unusual celerity at taps after that.

Such talks make a man feel like being a man.

About the Camp.

Attention!

Where's your soap?

Clean out those sights.

Are your shoes blacked?

The camp will be full of visitors Sunday.

The weather is beautiful at camp today.

Mrs. Sergeant Irving came down yesterday afternoon.

Nine of the officers' wives are quartered at a farm house near by.

The boys go in swimming along about 5 o'clock in the morning.

The Clover Leaf will run a special excursion train to camp, Sunday.

It was almost dark when the bicycle drill was finished last evening.

The muster occurred this afternoon, and the company pay roll was signed.

Ham and eggs, fried fish and potatoes was the bill of fare this morning.

O. W. Crocker and Ed. Dodge were among the vets in camp yesterday.

Capt. Heistand and Capt. McMaken were at West Point together just 17 years ago.

Inky's cadets gave a concert and did some dancing after the band concert last evening.

John Dresser did a little fishing yesterday and secured a nice string of pickerel and bass.

Herman Lefbius went in swimming yesterday and caught a mud turtle that bit his toe.

Capt. McMaken looks well on a wheel, but he says he don't feel as easy as he may appear.

Dr. Dave Harroun, an old Cadet, arrived in camp last evening, and will remain all week.

John Bastable, of the passenger department of the C., H. & D., was a caller at camp last evening.

Jim Lasalle caught a cat fish three feet long yesterday, and it was served up for breakfast this morning.

Will Phillips made a great reputation as a fine swimmer, but yesterday it was discovered that he swims with one hand on the bottom.

Tom Pilliod, an ex-Cadet, formerly of Toledo, but now a resident of Grand Rapids, shot a fine lot of woodcock yesterday and presented them to Lieut. Waters.

A game of ball was played yesterday afternoon. Captains Ehni and Geleerd kept their picked nines humping. The score was lost in the multiplicity of brilliant events.

The guard detail for yesterday was: Sergeant Quine, officer of the guard; Sergeant O'Brien, Corporals Raymer and Pixley, Privats Tappan, Wolfert, White, Bursell, Dresser and Ryan.

The regular target practice commences to-day. They will shoot in squads of six men. A little shooting was done yesterday, and some fair scores were made, considering it was the first of the season.

Col. Howe went out fishing yesterday afternoon and captured an eight-pound pickerel. It was the largest fish he ever caught, he says. Ed. Moore took a photograph of the colonel, his catch and tackle.

Dr. J. A. Backus, of Grand Rapids, said to a Bee that the people of the place were very much pleased with the Cadets and their general good behavior. They are glad the company came there and want them again.

Capt. Heistand says that a body of soldiers on a day's march will make about two and one-half miles an hour. With a bicycle they can make ten miles an hour. The captain thinks the bicycle for military use will be made with a hickory wheel.

Acting Quartermaster Rosewell Messenger is a hustler. He stepped into the position at the last moment on account of the ill health of Quartermaster Middaugh and has made a great record. He buys all the provisions and everything that is used in camp in that line. He is up at 4 a. m. and is the last to bed. The boys speak highly of what he has done.

IT IS FORMED.

The Union of Epworth League Chapters.

Staff of Officers Chosen—Object of the Organization—Next Meeting to be Held in August.

The adjourned session of the delegates for perfecting a city union of Epworth leagues met last evening as per arrangement. The committee had been in session at an early hour arranging by-laws and other matters of the constitution which had not been completed at the former session. At 8:30 the meeting was called to order and Rev. P. P. Pope led in prayer.

The committee on constitution having reported further the full constitution was adopted. By this constitution the organization is known as the "Toledo Epworth League Union." Its object, the inspiration and fellowship that comes from united efforts. Its officers to consist of a president, secretary and treasurer elected by the union, and a vice president from each of the local chapters, selected by the chapter. Meetings shall be held quarterly on the third Wednesday night of the month, August, November, February and May. The annual election will take place at the November meeting.

The following officers were elected:

President—L. S. Churchill, of St. John's chapter.

Secretary—Miss Hattie Frankeberger, of St. Paul's chapter.

Treasurer—August Kremlin, of German Emanuel chapter.

The officers immediately took their places and the president spoke with feeling, of the love that should exist between the different chapters, liking it to the love that exists between members of the same family, though separate. He spoke of his desire to so preside that the union should be a help to every chapter and that great good might be accomplished among the young people of Toledo.

A committee of five was then appointed to devise a system of visitation between the several chapters with a view of gathering points of excellence in methods of conducting the services, and turn these to benefit in the other chapters where such methods are not in vogue. There will be two persons from each chapter who will visit the Sabbath evening service of some other chapter, gathering points. Thus each chapter will have two absentees from its Sabbath evening services and likewise two visitors.

The meeting then adjourned. The next session will be held the third Wednesday of August, composed of the cabinets of the local chapters and one vice president elected by the same.

SOME TESTIMONY

That Toledo Grain Buyers Have Been Catered To

By the Railroads—The Investigations of the Inter-state Commerce Commissioners Are Being Continued.

The inter-state commerce commission is evidently going to shake the railroads up regarding unjust discriminations against certain shippers. Toledo is one of the points interested in the matter. The commissioners were at Omaha yesterday.

Mr. C. W. Varney, of Lincoln, went to Omaha and appeared before the commissioners. He was placed under oath, and his testimony was then taken. His testimony was that upon numerous occasions during the past year Reynolds Bros., of Toledo; Gill & Fisher, of Baltimore, and several other heavy eastern firms have paid more for grain than it was worth by from 2 to 4 cents, after deducting the published freight rate from the prices paid in New York. "These men have paid so much per bushel for the grain delivered in Chapin, Ill., and time and time again they have paid 2 to 4 cents more than we could get in New York," said Mr. Varney. "We grain men are thoroughly convinced that the railroads have been conferring favors upon these eastern buyers, and we would like to see the exact facts in the case laid bare. The discrimination exists, that is certain. Just what scheme is managed may be a difficult matter to find out."

Gen. Veazey and Judge McDill left yesterday over the Union Pacific for Ogden and Boise City, where they will hear some evidence as to the general situation and the condition of traffic along the western section of the Union Pacific. They will proceed to Los Angeles, where they have a case to hear involving some complaints as to discrimination on the Southern Pacific.

RECIPROCITY.

Grand Forks, S. D., Proposes to Have a Convention.

Grand Forks, S. D., July 20.—The chamber of commence yesterday selected September 1 and 2 as the date of the international reciprocity convention to be held in this city. Excursion rates will be offered on all railways as far east as New York. Tickets will be on sale August 30. Arrangements will be made for the attendance of 1,000 delegates.

Invitations will be issued to the boards of trade and all cities in northwestern states, Manitoba and on the Canadian frontier as far east as Detroit and Buffalo. Among the speakers of national reputation to be invited are Erastus Wiman, Joseph Nimmo, Ben Butterworth and Consul Taylor, ex-Premier Greenway and others from Manitoba. Extension of railway communications, trade relations, lake navigation and a deep water channel to the sea will receive attention in the convention proceedings.

SUGAR COMBINE.

Cuban Planters Taking Steps Toward a Trust.

Philadelphia, July 20.—Juan Remero, a representative of a syndicate of Cuban sugar planters, has been in this city since last week conferring with several prominent capitalists and sugar men with a view to forming a large sugar company. With what success he has met is not known as Senor Romero declines to discuss the question.

SUGAR ESTABLISHMENT.

Havana, July 20.—It's stated that several American capitalists have been formed into a syndicate for the purpose of starting a large central sugar establishment near Trinidad.

ELECTRIC LIGHT STATION

The Committee Selects the Backus Site on Water Street.

Manager Moore Will be in Toledo This Week to Close the Deal—An Excellent Location.

The committee of the directors of the Toledo Electric Light company appointed to investigate and report on a suitable site for the proposed new electric light station, has reported in favor of the Backus tract on Water street.

The lot, which is located next to the Vulcan Iron works, near Lagrange street, is 125 feet wide and runs clear back to the river.

Mr. J. S. Rodgers, speaking with a Bee this morning, said the company has had on option on the lot for some time. The report of the committee, he said, had been forwarded east for approval.

Manager Moore, of the Thompson-Huston concern, is expected here this week, when the deal will probably be consummated.

AUSTRALIAN MAIL SERVICE.

Congress Will be Asked to Help Maintain It.

San Francisco, July 20.—The chamber of commerce yesterday adopted resolutions reciting that the Australian mail service is performed at the present time by the Oceanic Steamship company of San Francisco, an exclusively American corporation, with the aid of one British steamship, the employment of which is obligatory under the contract with the New Zealand government, which pays most of the cost.

This contract expires in November, 1892, and there is almost a certainty that the service will be abandoned unless the postoffice department of the United States hereafter bears a reasonable share of the cost of maintaining it.

The chamber of commerce therefore feels it incumbent upon it to impress upon congress the necessity for appropriating such sum as will insure a continuance of the American mail service to Australia.

COMPLICATED CASE

A Too-Much Married Lady Draws a Pension as Widow

Of One Soldier-Husband and Boards the Other, Who is Also a Soldier and Pensioner.

"Is marriage a failure?"

Not while the pension bureau deals out money with its present prodigality, at least that would probably be the testimony of the lady whose history is given below:

While the Union army lay at Chattanooga, in 1863, one of the men married a southern lady and took her to his mother's home. He returned to his regiment soon after and it was not long before his friends received news of his death. The young wife and child went back to the south, and at the close of the war the young woman, supposing herself widowed, married another Union soldier, who died eight years later. She applied for and was granted a pension for herself and children and had enjoyed it two years, when, one day, her first husband put in appearance. He was also drawing a pension. The meeting was a joyous one to both parties. They discussed the affair and concluded that if he made himself known, and lived with her as her husband, she would forfeit the pension to which she felt she was justly entitled, as she had cared for the man, whom she supposed was her husband, for a number of years and was regularly pensioned as his widow. So, husband No. 1 entered her house as a boarder and both draw their pensions.

The question that naturally arises is, does she legally retain her pension? She surely would if her first husband had not returned, and if it was legal then, why is it not legal now? G. B.

PRESIDENT KELSO.

He Denies That He is a Defaulter and Says That He Will Return.

Camden, Ark., July 20.—President J. C. Kelso, of the Magnolia bank, in a telegram received yesterday from Lick Springs, Ind., denounces as false the reports prevailing that he is in any sense a defaulter or that he is eluding the officers.

President Kelso is expected here next Friday and promises to clear up matters in regard to the banks with which he is connected.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is a good thing for Carnegie that he is on the other side of the water, out of the reach of republican politicians. If he were to attend a meeting of the republican national committee just now he would probably be lynched.—Wheeling Register.

An attempt to control election by bayonets is considered with still greater odium by the electors in all states. Still President Harrison championed it when before congress. But having both the candidate and the platform committed to it is a double dose which is almost nauseating both to the party and public generally.—Minneapolis Times.

The republican census bureau undercounted New York city nearly 200,000, robbing it of a congressman and a state elector. Republican legislatures denied an apportionment and kept 600,000 people in New York and Brooklyn without representation at Albany. But all the democrats will vote this year, and vote for Cleveland and Stevenson.—New York World.

While protectionists are bearing down workingmen's wages in Pennsylvania they are energetically forcing up the price of binder twine to the farmers in Iowa. The farmers up there make vigorous protests against the advance of 2 cents a pound on twine. Have they no gratitude? Are they not blessed with a high protective tax on seed wheat?—St. Louis Republic.

The republican party has no apology to make to labor. It has done the best possible thing for labor by making it possible for manufacturers to pay their workmen better wages than they could do but for the protective tariff. It is ready to make the manufacturer divide up with the workmen whenever a feasible way of doing it can be devised. The republican party is a friend of labor or it is nothing.—Pueblo (Colo.) Chieftain (Rep.)

The widespread prevalence of cholera in Asia and in eastern Europe lends force and cogency to the instructions issued by the surgeon general of the Marine hospital service to the government officers under his control. Except through neglect or dereliction of duty no importation of the dreaded pestilence could possibly occur; and sleepless vigilance is not too high a price to pay for immunity from this scourge.—Philadelphia Record.

There must be a demand before there is a supply. If there were no demand for Pinkertons there would be no Pinkertons. Capital is responsible for "hired assassins." When capital usurps the role of tyrant it must have something to sustain it and that something must bear arms and be ready to shoot and kill. If there were no Pinkertons there would be some other body of men who would for a consideration undertake to hold capital on the despot's throne.—Chicago Mail.

Once upon a time Andrew Carnegie said: "I consider that of all the agencies immediately available to prevent wasteful and embittering contests which cannot be otherwise averted between capital and labor, arbitration is the most powerful and beneficial." If this be true, why has Mr. Carnegie thrown arbitration to the winds and resorted to Pinkerton thugs? Possibly his republican defenders can explain.—Buffalo Courier.

The first thought of everybody will be that Andrew Carnegie, who has celebrated a "Triumphant Democracy," ought to be on the spot exhausting every means of arbitration, conciliation, and humane appeal before permitting things to reach the pass that now arrests the attention of the nation. The arbitrament that is sought through the rifles of the hired Hessians of the army of Pinkertons has no place in a country where law is supposed to govern. It surely can have no warrant until after the local, state, and federal authority shall have proved insufficient to guard property and the rights of men to pursue the work that is their livelihood.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

COLUMBUS CHAT

Two Convicts Form a Suicide Club.

Wholesale Grocers Elect Officers and Take Steps Toward a Permanent Organization.

Columbus, O., July 20.—Some seventy-five wholesale grocers of Ohio and Eastern Indiana met at the Chittenden yesterday to organize a State association. Owing to the competition and great reduction in sugars and other sundries, they are endeavoring to formulate some plan to cut down competition and make some profit in these goods.

A temporary organization was effected by choosing H. A. Bishop, of Babcock, Hurd & Co., of Cleveland, as president, and W. Worman, of Dayton, secretary. A committee on permanent organization was appointed to report as soon as a plan could be adopted. It consisted of the following: Messrs. C. Norton, Cleveland; Shedd, Columbus; St. Clair, Toledo; McIntire, Dayton; and Hopkins, Springfield.

The association elected the following officers: president, James Ulrich, Columbus; vice president, H. H. Eveay, Xenia; treasurer, Samuel Stevens, Columbus; executive committee, John J. Flack, Cincinnati, H. K. Bishop, Cleveland, and E. E. Shedd, Columbus. The executive committee will select a secretary for the organization. Another meeting of the association will be held August 2.

Holtsbury, first lieutenant Company K, Seventeenth infantry, Hebron; Frank Bruner, captain Company K, Seventeenth infantry, Hebron; Charles B. Wernz, second lieutenant Company I, Third infantry, Eighth, Dayton; Albert Hartle, second lieutenant Company A, Third infantry, Covington.

Formed a Suicide Club.

Frank Rowland and James Doyle, partner convicts, serving five years in the Ohio prison, each for burglary and larceny, from Ottawa county, agreed Friday to commit suicide. Rowland suicided Sunday night, leaving a confession in which he implicates a number of men who are now at large, and vindicates others who he claims are serving time for crimes which they did not commit. Doyle became insane yesterday, his mania being that the officers were going to execute him as he claims they did Rowland. Doyle had a leather strap in his pocket with which to carry out his agreement to suicide. He is anxious to know whether Rowland implicated him in any further crimes in his confession. The prison officials refuse to give the confession to the public until after an investigation.

LAKE SHORE AT TOLEDO

A Gas Plant That Will Feed the Wabash and C., H. & D.

The Block System to be Adopted on the Lake Shore—Other Improvements on the Line.

There are but few accidents on the European railroads, and the principal reason for this is that they have everywhere adopted the block system. The Lake Shore, to be in line, it is said, is arranging to place the block system on its lines, commencing with the main road, between Buffalo and Chicago. Experts have been sent out to inquire into the merits of the various systems, but nothing has been decided upon, except that a track circuit system is favored for the main line and the pneumatic system for large stations and yards.

The Lake Shore last week awarded to the Brooks locomotive works an order for 25 new locomotives. Five of these are to be six-wheel switching engines. The others are of the ten-wheel type, with 17 by 24-inch cylinders. Ten of these are freight engines, with 4 1-2-foot wheels, and the remainder are of light construction, except that 5-foot wheels are used, with the other changes made necessary by the increased diameter. The equipment has been ordered in anticipation of increased business on account of the world's fair, and the boilers of the passenger locomotives will be tested to 180 pounds pressure. The engines with the larger wheels will be delivered next January, and the others about this time next year.

Arrangements have just been finished for the building of a Pintsch gas plant at Toledo with a capacity of 400 cars, for the purpose of supplying the Lake Shore equipment, running between Toledo and Buffalo and Toledo and Chicago. The Wabash & Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton cars will be fed from the same plant.

Wooster, July 20.—The republicans of Wayne county will have a mass convention Tuesday, July 26, for the purpose of nominating a county ticket and selecting delegates and alternates to the congressional convention. SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

Edmund Dodgson Startles the People of Neenah, Wis.

Neenah, Wis., July 20.—Edmund Dodgson, an insurance agent and broker of this city has created a stir in insurance circles by his sudden disappearance from the city, and his supposed trip to England.

Monday his office clerk received a letter from him dated New York, July 15, saying he had decided to spend his vacation in England and would be back about September 1.

In his career of six years here he at times created some suspicion, but had gained the good will of many of the business men and did a large business.

The fact that he has been collecting premiums for his companies and not remitting them has now become evident. It is expected that the amount accumulated in this way and the debts he left will amount to between $10,000 and $20,000.

Among the companies that are in this agency at present is the Mechanics, of Philadelphia.

FIVE MILLIONS.

Paint Dealers to Join a Big Combination.

New York, July 20.—Negotiations have been begun between the firms of F. W. Devoe & Co. and C. T. Reynolds & Co. the largest dealers in paints in the world, for the purpose of consolidation.

The two firms have been at variance for some time past and have engaged in a war of prices, the result of which was that many small dealers were almost ruined.

Peace has now been patched up and the consolidation will result. It is probable that $5,000,000 will be the capitalization, as the business done by the two firms is enormous.

DEATH OF DR. MASSEY.

TARIFF CATECHISM.

Whom does the tariff benefit?

Rich men.

How does it benefit rich men?

Rich men who own the manufactories, and, by means of the tariff, get higher prices for the goods they manufacture.

How does the tariff affect laboring men?

They lose by it.

In what way?

They are the chief consumers and are obliged to pay higher prices for what they consume.

But they receive higher wages on account of the tariff, do they not?

Not as a rule; and where they do, the increase in wages is far below the increase cost of living.

Are not the workingmen better off under tariff protection?

No, they are worse off, for the reason just stated—the balance is against them. The tariff greatly increases the cost of living, but does not, in any like proportion, increase their wages.

But the wealth of the country increases under the tariff, does it not?

Yes, in the aggregate, but the increase is in the hands of the few, thereby dividing the people into two classes: The rich few and the poor many.—Utica Press.

A SUMMER THOUGHT.

Sometimes I can but ask me this—
Would heaven to me be always bliss
If I should miss the robin's call,
The bluebird's cheery note,
The fragrance of the lily fleets
On shining ponds afloat,
And all the precious things of mine
That make me glad in summer-time?

And then the droning, fluttering bee,
The butterflies awhirl,
The pennons which the growing corn
From stately masts unfurl;
Primroses, like a golden fleece,
Spread by the singing rill;
The shadows which the sunbeams chase
Across the grassy hill.
Ah! over in that other clime
How sweet must be the summer-time!

Among the Slovaks of North Hungary the coffin of a young girl is red. In Spain the poorer class use no coffins. A mule with the dead body thrown across it, or often two corpses, may be frequently met on the way to burial, and, though to us such a funeral seems insulting to the departed, the natives reverently uncover their heads as it passes.

Man and horses soon recovered, and the cultivator was run in for repairs.

There is a Welsh colony in Patagonia which was planted in the Chubut Valley in 1869 by Rev. M. D. Jones. This valley is about 40 miles long and four broad and is well protected by the surrounding hills. These colonists originally numbered 150, but there are now about 3,000 of them. One of the number, Jonathan C. Davies, has just publishd a book about Patagonia.

Electricity is employed to heat springs for tempering in a gun factory in St. Etienne, France. A steel wire is wound spirally and a current passed through it which causes rapid heating. When the required temperature is reached the current is broken and the spring falls into a trough of water. It is stated that one workman can temper 2,400 springs per day by this method.

The Nile has a fall of but six inches to 1,000 miles. The overflow commences in June every year and continues until August, attaining an elevation of from twenty-four to twenty-six feet above low water mark, and flowing through the "Valley of Egypt" in a turbulent body 12 miles wide. During the last 1,000 years there has been but one sudden rise of the Nile, that of 1829, when 30,000 people were drowned.

To arrest bleeding the application of a cobweb to the wound has long been a rural custom. Experience has shown that the gossamer of which the web is composed forms a very useful styptic; but a very fatal objection to its use arise from the fact that as an application to an open wound it can never be guaranteed to be surgically clean, forming, as it does, a net for insects, and at the same time for the germs of many an infectious disease.

The construction of an observatory on the summit of Mont Blanc is again being actively proceeded with by a committee of scientific men in Paris. A two-floored wooden building is in preparation, to be sent in sections to Chamounix and to be carried up the mountain, in charge of the local guides, F. Payot and Jules Bossonay. There will be cabins for resting places, at the Grands Mulets and at the Roches Rouges, 1,000 feet below the summit.

RODE A CYCLONE.

"You talk about cyclones in the east!" said the old man as he laid down his paper. "Why they are nuthin' but summer zephyrs compared to real cyclones—reg'lar built, stand up cyclones like we hev out in Montana! They knock down a few trees, blow the roofs off a few houses and kill a baby or two, and then your daily papers make a great whoopin' over the awful destruction! It's 'nuff to make a man laugh to see how hard they try to make sumthin' big out of a little bit o' wind."

"You've seen cyclones in Montana, I take it?" chirruped the religious editor of the New York Herald.

"Ten of 'em, sir," replied the old man. "Nine of 'em were about ten times as destructive as this one which occurred in Illinois the other day, but we only called 'em two-centers. The other was the genuine thing and was really worth talkin' about."

"I'm sure we'd like to hear about it."

"Well, I'm no great hand at story tellin' but I'll do my best. It was in the Cedar valley to the north of Diamond City. That valley is made by a range of mountains to the east and the Gallitin river to the west. It was one afternoon in July, and I was on muleback and goin' north. It was as purty a day as you ever saw. I was feelin' powerful good that day, and I remember I was singin' a religious song when that cyclone come along. She started in about 30 miles north of me and come along down howlin' for gore."

"Couldn't you get shelter anywhere?"

"No. I was in the middle of a prairie 20 miles wide without even a bush to shelter me. An' thar wouldn't hev bin time anyhow. She was right at hand before I suspected what it was. With a scream and a roar and a whoop she enfolded me. I had just time to utter a prayer before I was picked up."

"Well?"

"Wall, I was exactly 16 miles above Diamond City when I met the cloud. I had looked at my watch, and it was 14 minutes after 12. When I came to I looked at my watch agin and it was 20 minutes after 12. I was then in Diamond City. I had been carried 16 miles in six minutes and deposited right in front of the best saloon in town."

"Hurt any?"

"Not a mite. I got up and walked into the saloon and called for three fingers of whisky just as calmly as if nuthin' had happened."

"Didn't the cyclone strike the town?"

"Certainly, and this was the only building not destroyed. Killed 107 people and destroyed 87 buildings in the city. It must hev been the hand of Providence, fur I was very thirsty and the saloon man owed me a drink on our last deal. That cyclone killed 251 people, including injuns, and destroyed 140 buildings along the valley."

"Did you ever find your mule?" was asked after a long and painful silence.

"That was also a queer thing," replied the old man. "He was carried along with me, dropped at the same time, and after I got my drink I found him standing at the hitching post in good order. That must have been the hand of Providence also, as he was my only mule, and his loss would have been a sad affair to me."

"Did you go out and mount him?"

"I did."

"And then ride away?"

"I did."

"And tell everybody you met just what had happened?"

"I did."

"And they appeared to believe it?"

"Well, no. I encountered three or four fellers who acted a leetle suspicious of me. They believed the main part of the story all right, but when it came down to the saloon and the drink they kicked on me."

"But why?"

"I told you I had walked in and called fur three fingers of whisky."

"Yes."

"That's what they kicked on. Under the circumstances they thought any human critter would naturally ask fur five or six, and buy a quart extra to resume his journey on!"

"I suppose you have never been asked for proofs?" queried our spokesman, after another silence.

"Yes, twice. Both of 'em sleep in that same valley and their headstones cost $19 apiece. They were newcomers and I buried 'em tenderly. Does anybody in this car want any affidavits or sich?"

No one did. He pulled out a buckhorn handled knife and sharpened it on his bootleg, but it was a useless move. None of us had the slightest doubt of his veracity.

Mrs. Osborne, a widow, has cleared $5,000 to $6,000 a year from her ranch near Salt Lake City. She raises vegetables. Lately she added a chicken ranch and two incubators, and expects to clear $10,000 a year.

The Duke of Argyll is now known as such in the British house of lords. Heretofore this title was only that of a Scottish peer, and the head of the house of Campbell was "Baron Sundridge" of the United Kingdom. Queen Victoria has now made the Dukedom of Argyll a Dukedom of the United Kingdom.

Proofs of gratitude to the stalwart Prince George of Greece for the part he took in saving the life of the czarowitz of Russia a year ago seem unending. The Greek inhabitants of Odessa sent a silver table service to his royal highness a few days ago as a mark of their appreciation of his heroic conduct.

Daniel O'Connell, son of the great "Liberator," fears that "Mr. Gladstone's home rule scheme would be most dangerous to Ireland." There may possibly be some slight connection between Mr. O'Connell's conservatism and the salary of $3,000 a year he draws under the crown as a special income tax commissioner.

Miss M. E. Finnegan, county superintendent of schools for Choteau county, Montana, has jurisdiction over an area of 27,500 miles, while Miss Alice Cavanaugh, of Dawson county, looks after the schools of a county covering 30,000 square miles, an area equal to that of South Carolina, greater than that of Maine and nearly four times that of Massachusetts.

Stuart Cumberland, the English mindreader, and Miss Phyllis Bentley, a relative of his wife and a performer of apparently miraculous feats of strength, were among the golden wedding guests of the king and queen of Denmark. Neither the king, nor the crown prince, nor the czar, nor any of the other men present could force to the ground a billiard cue held by Miss Bentley.

WHAT A HEADACHE MEANS.

Mrs. Prescott Tells Women How to Stop Them.

The Better Portion of Humanity Said to Have Them Oftenest.

The Great Amount of Good That Very Readily May be Accomplished.

Headaches!

It has been estimated that 15 per cent. of all the people who have nervous trouble claim headache as their principal symptom.

They are more apt to occur in those who lead a sedentary, studious, in-door life, and particularly in those who overwork mentally at some one thing without variety.

And women have them oftenest.

They are without question the most common concomitants of systematic disturbance and disease. Take the case of Mrs. C. E. Prescott.

Mrs. C. E. Prescott, who resides at 8 Worcester street, Cambridgeport, Mass. Mrs. Prescott says that she had had nervous headaches of the worst sort ever since she could remember. And she would ahve continued to have them but for the discovery of Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth college.

Says Mrs. Prescott, speaking of the remarkable benefits she has received: "There is nothing like Paine's celery compound. It has helped me wonderfully. For more than five years I have been troubled with constipation. My heart was so weak that I could not do any kind of work without a terrible throbbing. Ever since I can remember I have had nervous headaches of the worst sort. I have taken several bottles of Paine's celery compound and find it the only thing that helped me. I heartily recommend it to all suffering with the complaint with which I was afflicted, for this compound has done me such a marvelous amount of good that I want others to know of its value."

Thousands of women have had the same experience, and hundreds of them have gratefully acknowledged the benefits they have received from this famous compound, in letters like the above to Wells, Richardson & Co. They owe a great debt to the genius of Dartmouth's great professor.

A CLEVER SWINDLER

A Toledo Convict Captured in Columbus.

Tall and Handsome Edith Kirk Gets Into Trouble in the Capital.

Columbus, July 20.—The good women of Columbus who follow the business of dressmaking can breathe easier now.

No longer will they be obliged to look upon with suspicion any strange patron who may ask for a drink of water.

The police have stopped the operations of a woman who for a month past has daily swindled dressmakers in this city. They have landed behind the bars one of the cleverest and at the same time dangerous female thieves in the country. The notorious Edith Kirk, whose work in the panel game, thieving and all round crooked schemes has given her photograph a place in every rogues' gallery in the country, got into the wrong community this time.

About a month ago a South Side dressmaker reported to the police that she had been robbed in a peculiar way. A well-dressed woman called at her establishment and after the usual preliminaries was fitted for a dress. Upon the point of leaving the visitor suddenly became faint and asked for a drink of water. Then she keeled in good style and the dressmaker, alarmed, made a rush for camphor, etc. When she returned to the room her customer was not to be found—neither was a fine silk dress which lay upon a machine, or a pocketbook with a few dollars which was lying in a drawer.

This job was followed by another, identical in details. For three weeks this trick was successfully worked, though every effort was made to capture the swindler. No less than a dozen establishments were victimized out of probably $200.

One day last week a tall brunette, fairly good looking, dressed in a neat fitting black silk dress, with modest jewelry ornaments, called upon Mrs. Emma J. Southworth, 179 North Fourth street. She wanted to be fitted for two dresses and was not particular as to the cost, but wanted some stylish apparel. She said the goods would be left at the place, and gave a number where the dresses when completed were to be delivered.

After the measurements were taken and the young lady appeared gratified to find a dressmaker that she thought would suit her she became faint, and clutching her heart in a spasm of pain fell over on the sofa.

Mrs. Southworth rushed for the water pitcher in a room down stairs, while an assistant in her fright made good time for Dr. Baldwin's office. When they returned their eyes stared at vacancy. The tall brunette was not visible. An investigation showed a pocket-book with $18 had been abstracted from a bureau drawer.

The latest case was that of Mrs. Blye on North Fourth street, who lost $8.

The description of the woman and character of her operations tallied with that of Edith Kirk, and a photograph of the noted thief was recognized by several of the swindled dressmakers.

Detective Pete Murphy got trace of Kirk, but could not locate her until yesterday. By a good piece of work he found the woman with an ex-convict in a place on North Third street, and with Officer Duce arrested the parties and locked them up.

The woman had nothing to say and refused to tell where the stolen goods had been planted. She has served two terms in the penitentiary, one of two years from Cleveland and one of one year from Toledo.

There are strong cases against her here and she will soon be on her third trip.

CASH REGISTERS.

The National Company Gets Into Court.

Suit Filed by Three Other Companies—Claim That a Conspiracy to Destroy Exists.

New York, July 20.—The case of Edward B. Hess, of Ohio, a director of the National Cash Register company, and who was recently arrested in this city on an indictment found against the officials of the company by the United States grand jury at Boston, charging them with entering into a combination to ruin the business character of four concerns engaged in manufacturing cash registers, is before United States Commissioner Shields to-day.

The indictment alleges that defendants combined against the Kruse Cash Register company, of this city; the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company, of Newark, N. J.; the Union Cash Register company, of Trenton, N. J.; and the Elberon Cash Indicator and Recorder company, of Boston, Mass.

It is charged that the National Cash Register company, on December 15, last, entered into a combination to restrain, ruin and destroy the trade of these companies by enticing away from the Lamson company its agents and employes.

The National Cash Register company, it is charged, made threats of personal violence against the officers and agents of the Lamson company, and employed detectives who followed and annoyed their selling agents. Inducements are alleged to have been offered whereby its agents and employes were made to break contracts of service with the Lamson people. Individuals secretly employed by the National Cash Register company were made to obtain employment with the Lamson company for the purpose of obtaining possession of the latter's trade secrets, which were communicated to the National people. Another charge is that the National company caused the Kruse, Lamson and Boston concerns much annoyance by inducing purchasers of their machines to discontinue their use and refrain from buying through threats that suits would be brought against them for infringement of patents.

THINGS WORTH REMEMBERING.

When you feel a kind of goneness about the stomach it is a sign that your food does not sit well and that you are about to have a fit of indigestion.

When you begin to feel nervous and are unable to sit still comfortably; when your clothes suddenly seem to lose their fit and become too tight in places the fit of indigestion is surely upon you.

When this fit of indigestion is repeated from day to day it finally resolves itself into dyspepsia.

Remember that three to ten of Brandreth's Pills will cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia, or both, and that a regular course of them, say two every night for a week or ten days, will act as a preventive of either complaint.

FOSTORIA.

Suit for Damages Settled—Lute Archer Killed.

Fostoria, O., July 20.—(Special)—The eleventh annual fair of the Wood County Fair company will be held September 27 to October 1 inclusive.

The test well in the Hall farm north of town, which is being drilled by the Northwestern, is down about 800 feet and is expected in this week.

Several months ago Mrs. W. J. Boyer, of this city, brought suit against the B. & O. railroad company for $2,000 and the court has granted her $300. She was standing on the platform and was struck on the arm by a portion of a torpedo placed on the track to signal a passing train.

Lute Archer, who was run over and instantly killed at North Baltimore, is the fifth son of James Archer to meet a violent death. Three of them were killed by the cars, one was killed by a tree falling on him and the other by ex-Marshal Kratz, while resisting arrest. A son-in-law, T. H. McMurray, was also shot and killed at Bairdstown two years ago.

HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?

Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whereof she affirmed.

A little book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, will be sent to any one in the land, FREE.

It was decided that President Walsh of the Notre Dame university should have general superintendence of the enterprise.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 307,561 bu and at five other western points 436,375 bu, aggregating 743,836 bu. On the corresponding Wednesday in 1891 the receipts were 928,690 bu, with only 100,833 bu of northwestern wheat.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 154,518 bu and flour to an aggregate of 275,000 bu. Export of corn 55,186 bu and of oats 79,602 bu.

English markets are firm for wheat and corn and at London wheat was held higher.

The Markets To-Day.

Bradstreet's report of the visible supply of grain makes wheat decreased 118,000 bu., corn increased 128,000 bu., oats increased 459,000 bu.

The wheat markets in this country continue firm. Most of our Chicago reports to-day represent a narrow market and maintained principally by one man's purchases, but, true or not, prices have not varied much. What fluctuations have occurred have been upward. Receipts are increasing slowly. The rains have kept it back, but it will come, and we shall not starve if we wait a little. At Chicago, before close of 'change, prices were stronger. August closed 7-8c up and September 5-8c. Corn 1-8c up. July oats 1-8c up.

Corn has also been maintained with limited variations. At Chicago August and September closed 1-8c up.

In New York, from whence we do not yet receive continuous market, the latest August price for wheat showed an advance of 3-8c and September 3-8c. Corn closed 1-8c up.

In Toledo we have had only a moderately active wheat market, and with slight variations from yestreday's close. We do not advance with other markets. In futures the best prices of the day and closing were July 81 1-2c; August 80 5-8c, closing at 80 1-2c; September 81 3-8c, closing at 81 1-8c, and these prices correspond to yesterday's closing.

Cash wheat was in much better demand with sales of 60,000 bushels. No. 2 soft sold at 81 1-4 to 81 3-8c and at close 81 1-2c was bid. No. 3 soft, 75 1-2c, August at 74 3-4c, September at 75 1-4c. No. 4 soft at 71c. Rejected No. 1 at 72c. No. 1 white at 81 1-2c weavily at 72c. We have 194 cars of corn No. 3 at 49 1-2c. No. 2, 50 1-2c. Rye, No. 2, for August on the call at 65 1-2c, rejected at 58c.

The returns show the acreage of corn as compared with the acual area of last year to be 95.6 per cent. The reduction of area is not actually distributed, being mostly confined to the great corn producing regions of the country. This decrease, the report says, has been considerably offset by the increased acreage in the south, where, during the last year, 11 cotton states have given considerable breadth to the cultivation of corn. The condition of the crop is 81.1 per cent. and the lowest July acreage ever reported by the department. The condition of the wheat is very favorable, there being only a slight decline in several of the minor producing states. The condition of oats, 87.2 per cent., is the lowest July condition with one exception ever reported. The month shows a slight increase in rye; the condition, however, is slightly below that of 1891. Barley has changed but little during the month, but the average reported is the highest ever known in July since 1885. The acreage of potatoes is very low, there being a decrease in the largest yielding states. The early appearance of the potato bug has ruined many crops. This month is generally the largest yielding one in the year. The returns from tobacco, although very favorable, are smaller than for the corresponding month last year. The report, in conclusion, gives the reports of cotton for the month, so far received, which, however, are very imperfect.

FOR BETTER ROADS.

Bike Boys Appear Before the Committee on Revision of Laws.

Washington, July 20.—The officers of the League of American Wheelmen are taking advantage of their visit to the national capital by endeavoring, through their influence, to have legislation enacted by which the great army of bicycle riders as well as those traveling by other locomotion, can be benefitted thereby.

To-day they appeared before the house committee on the revision of the laws and advocated the passage of the bill introduced by Representative Post, of Illinois, to create a national highway commission.

Col. Burdette, president of the L. A. W., impressed upon the committee the necessity for good roads and discussed the advantage of such to the country at large.

He handsomely demonstrated to the committee the fact that the wheelmen were, by experience of travel, most excellent judges of good highways. General Roy Stone, of New York, who is interested in the same subject, also addressed the committee in favor of the measure.

He was followed by Representative Post, the originator of the measure.

The committee will meet to-morrow and take action on the bill. Representative Ellis (Ky.), chairman of the committee, was authorized to report favorably to the house the bill introduced by Representative Culberson, providing for the further continuation of the publication of the revised statutes.

DOUBLE SUICIDE.

New York, July 20.—Wm. Varley, aged 45, and his daughter Annie, 9 years old, occupants of the house, 2204 Fifth avenue, were this morning found dead in the bath room. The gas was turned on and the police declare the case a double suicide.

WITH DEADLY WEAPON.

A Discharged Man Makes a Probably Fatal Assault.

Berlin, July 20.—A discharged workman named Grueneberg to-day entered the office of the director of the Berlin public gardens.

Director Marchtig at the time was engaged in looking over some plans when he saw Grueneberg approaching, revolver in hand. The director saw no way of escaping and called to his assistant, Clemen.

Grueneberg rushed forward and fired at the director, wounding him dangerously. Clemen ushed to the rescue and Grueneberg turned the revolver against Clemen and fired, also wounding him dangerously.

Grueneberg then turned and fled. He has not yet been arrested.

CRANDALL ACQUITTED.

Four Factories in Montreal Forced to Close Their Doors.

Montreal, July 20.—Owing to the strike of nail makers, which started some three weeks ago, the four nail factories in this city have been compelled to close down.

The men want an increase of wages and the employers say they are willing to give them ten per cent. over the old schedule, which is 1 1-2c over the rate paid at Pittsburg, but will not pay the rate demanded by the men, declaring it to be out of all reason.

ROBBED A VANDERBILT.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 20.—George W. Vanderbilt's cottage was broken into last night and a large quantity of silver plate and other valuables stolen. A man who has been lurking about the place several days claiming to be a fiend of Vanderbilt has been arrested on suspicion.

NEW POAG BUILDING.

The Old Structure to be Replaced,

And a Handsome New One Will Take Its Place—Summit Street Improvement.

The old building next to the First National bank, the under part of which is being used for a saloon and the upper stores now unoccupied, is to be torn to pieces and a handsome series of store and office rooms put in its place.

Mr. John Poag, the owner, notified Mr. Smith, the saloonkeeper, yesterday that he must seek quarters elsewhere.

It is proposed to practically tear the old building to pieces, to reconstruct it from top to bottom.

The improvement, it is hinted, will be of such an extensive nature that the building when finished will be an ornament to Summit street.

Mr. J. M. Floyd, agent for the Poag estate, said to a Bee yesterday that the improvements would be extensive, but that the plans were not definitely settled.

New Hosiery opened this morning At LAMSONS'.

S.S.S. CURES MALARIAL POISON
Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.
LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.
For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S.S.S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.

THE NAME BUT NOT THE BRAIN.

"Napoleon I," says Mr. Gladstone, "had the greatest brain that was ever put inside of a human skull." No doubt, but not all the men who have been named after him have succeeded to his genius.

To copy a name or a fashion is easy; to create the name or the fashion is hard. For example take the numerous so-called extracts of beef we see or hear of; only one holds its place and grows in favor—namely, the original Liebig Company's Extract of Beef. The sales of this admirable food product for the past year show, as we should expect, a notable increase. Cheap competition has not impaired the popularity of the Liebig Company's preparation because the public does not believe in things which are manifestly made to sell on the reputation of others—little boys that "cut behind" in business.

Next, people have learned that the Liebig Company's Extract is chiefly meant for daily use in the kitchen, not for the sick room only. It is the leader among the partially digested foods because it does just enough for the stomach—not too much. It is prepared from the best parts of cattle bred on purpose, not from what is left after the best has been otherwise disposed of. The manufacture of the Liebig Company's Extract of Beef is a business, not an appendix to a business. But the nominal Napoleons are fussy and persistent. Therefore let the buyer ask questions and examine trademark and label.
